2. You are not supposed to write anything during the cool off time.
3. Attempt the questions according to the instructions.

Questions 1-5: Read the excerpt from In the Attic and answer the questions that follow. (5×1=5)

Not until the early hours of the next day was the silence broken by a loud and resonant noise, the last sound I had expected. Radio loudspeakers set up somewhere nearby were broadcasting announcements in Polish of the defeat of Germany and the liberation of Warsaw.

The Germans had withdrawn without a fight. As soon as it began to get light, I prepared feverishly for my first venture out. My officer had left me a German military overcoat to keep me from freezing. I had already put it on when I suddenly heard the rhythmic footsteps of guards out in the road again. Had the Soviet and Polish troops withdrawn, then?

I sank on my mattress, utterly dejected, and lay there until something new came to my ears: the voices of women and children. At all costs, I had to get information.

1.What was the announcement made by radio loud speakers set up nearby?

2. Why did the German officer give his military overcoat to the narrator?
   A) The officer feared for his own safety.
   B) The officer was forced to part with his overcoat.
   C) The officer had great concern for the narrator's survival.
   D) The officer wanted to put the narrator's life in danger.

3. Why did the narrator sink on his mattress utterly dejected?
   A) Because of the rhythmic footsteps of guards
   B) Because of the German announcements over the radio
   C) Because of the sounds of women and children
   D) Because he had no information of the current situation at the war front

4. What did the narrator desperately need?

5. Identify the Noun Phrase in the subject position and the Verb Phrase from the sentence given below.

   The military overcoat of the German officer symbolises both protection and uncertainty.

Questions 6-9: Read the lines from Another Day in Paradise and answer the questions that follow. (4×1=4)

She calls out to the man on the street
"Sir, can you help me?
It's cold and I've nowhere to sleep,
Is there somewhere you can tell me?"
He walks on, doesn't look back
He pretends he can't hear her
Starts to whistle as he crosses the street
Seems embarrassed to be there.
Oh, think twice, cause it's another day for
You and me in paradise.
Oh, think twice, cause it's another day for you,
You and me in paradise,
Think about it.

6. Why does the man start to whistle as he crosses the street?

7. What effect does the repetition of the line "Oh, think twice, 'cause it's another day for you and me in paradise" create?

A) It creates the impression that the world is a heaven for everyone.
B) It emphasizes the comfort of the speaker.
C) It contrasts the suffering of others with our own privilege.
D) It uses humour to lighten the tone.

8. What message does the poet convey through the lines given above?

A) People should avoid helping strangers on the street.
B) Life in paradise is perfect and should be celebrated.
C) Society often turns a blind eye to the suffering of others and needs to be more compassionate.
D) Everyone should donate to charity.

9. Which poetic device do you observe in the line: "He pretends he can't hear her"?

10. [A] Read these lines from the poem The Wild Swans and write an appreciation focusing on the theme and the poetic techniques. (1×5=5)

The trees are in their autumn beauty,
The woodland paths are dry,
Under the October twilight the water
Mirrors a still sky;
Upon the brimming water among the stones
Are nine-and-fifty swans.
The nineteenth autumn has come upon me
Since I first made my count;
I saw, before I had well finished,
All suddenly mount
And scatter wheeling in great broken rings
Upon their clamorous wings

10. [B] Here are two excerpts from the play Julius Caesar. They are the words of Brutus and Mark Antony delivered on the occasion of Caesar's funeral. Read them carefully.

Mark Antony (Original)	Brutus (Simplified)
"You all did see that on the Lupercal I thrice presented him a kingly crown, Which he did thrice refuse: was this ambition? Yet Brutus says he was ambitious; And, sure, he is an honourable man."	"I cared for Caesar deeply..... But I loved Rome even more. Would you rather have Caesar alive, and all of us be slaves or have Caesar dead so we can all be free? I cried for him because I loved him. I was happy for his successes and admired his bravery. But because he was ambitious, I killed him."

Both Brutus and Mark Antony speak about Caesar's ambition. Analyse their speeches and then write a Paragraph on the points each speaker tries to highlight. Point out the argument you find to be more convincing and explain your reasons.

Questions 11-14: Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow. (4×1=4)

Northeastern India is a rich and varied region where misty Himalayan peaks, ancient monasteries, dense tropical forests and unique living traditions meet to create unforgettable travel experiences. In Assam, Kaziranga National Park protects one of the world's largest populations of the Indian one-horned rhinoceros and offers riverine grasslands and birdlife that earned it UNESCO World Heritage status. Meghalaya's hills around Shillong and Cherrapunji are famed for dramatic waterfalls, deep limestone caves and the remarkable living root bridges—hand-grown by local communities from rubber tree roots—that blend human skill with the natural world. In Arunachal Pradesh the historic Tawang Monastery sits high in the mountains and serves as an important center of Tibetan Buddhism, with prayer halls, murals and panoramic valley views. Sikkim adds alpine lakes, Buddhist shrines and high mountain passes such as Nathu La, while the wider North-East region contains other protected reserves, cultural festivals and tribal societies whose languages, crafts and cuisine make the area both ecologically significant and culturally vibrant.

11. What is Kaziranga National Park known for?
12. In what way do the living root bridges of Meghalaya reflect human interaction with nature?
13. Which of the following best explains why the Northeastern region of India is described as both ecologically significant and culturally vibrant in the passage?
