PLEDGE

India is my country. All Indians are my brothers and sisters.

I love my country, and I am proud of its rich and varied heritage. I shall always strive to be worthy of it.

I shall give my parents, teachers and all elders, respect and treat everyone with courtesy.

To my country and my people, I pledge my devotion. In their well-being and prosperity alone, lies my happiness.

DearStudents,

Why do we study and practice art? Such questions arise from the common perception that art is an "innate talent." However, just like any other field of humanities, the study of art also demands our attention and intellect.

This textbook, which focuses on areas like visual art, sculpture, music, dance, drama, and cinema, goes beyond mere knowledge acquisition in these subjects. It aims to encourage creative activities related to these artforms. Beyond the conventional method of practicing any art form with a competitive mindset, this textbook aspires to revitalize the educational process creatively by fostering a deep understanding of all art forms.

Through this book, we delve into various timeless aspects of visual arts, cinema, dance, music, theater, and more. In that sense, it serves as an entry way to an expansive creative world.Explore,discover,sing,act,and immerse yourselves in joy.We eagerly look forward to your feedback and suggestions.

With warm regards,

This textbook is designed in such a way to understand art through activities. The art education textbook aims at the all-round personality development of children, like having an exemplary perspective in the approach to the surroundings and fellow beings, acquiring skills and knowledge in such a way as to be able to create and share innovative thoughts that will strengthen the society, and nurturing creative abilities and finding their own place in the society. For that purpose, five fields, namely painting and sculpture, music, drama, cinema and dance, are included in this textbook. That's why various projects have been included in this textbook considering the taste of each of you, the fields of study required by the period, and the future career prospects. By preparing these projects you can go far in your field of interest.

Along with this textbook, the projects are planned to make the most of the knowledge and experiences you have gained from the art education lessons from class five to nine. Projects are included in the six chapters of this textbook in the areas of painting, sculpture, music, drama, cinema and dance, with the aim of nurturing your sense of inquiry and research aptitude.

A total of three projects, one per term, should be submitted in an academic year. The project structure and general guidelines are given in the introduction. Other suggestions according to the characteristics of each project, the learning activities leading to it, etc. are included in the respective lessons. The pages provided at the end of the book shall be used for planning the selected projects. You can also seek help from parents, teachers, friends and experts related to your chosen field to prepare the project.

The ultimate goal of the art education textbook is to create an "art literate new generation".

Stages of Preparing Project

Introduction

General information based on the selected topic, project objectives, prospects and objective study, documentation methods (photo, video), materials used etc. should be there in the introduction.

Content and Development

Prepare the report based on the ideas developed from the planned activities, data collection methods, digital documentation methods, interviews and site visits.

Check whether the idea of the project is practicable and useful, based on the report prepared as part of the project. At this stage, subject-related improvements can be made.

Documentation

The project includes collecting photographs, video collection, use of new media, potential use of artificial intelligence, planning of interviews and data collection from field trips based on project related topics.

Construction

Arrange the collected information according to the structure of the project (introduction, table of contents, chapters, graphs, images, videos, conclusion, references, details of books, etc.). While arranging, make sure that the project does not lose its continuity and relevance. Make use of the possibilities of artificial intelligence. It can be well designed using interactive methods.

Presentation

Projects can be presented through slides, paper presentations, demonstrations and productions. Submit the presented project report to the school either in print or digitally.

Music Concerts

The images given above are the performance of music concerts. Lets discuss the features of music concerts with the help of images and resource folder.

In the images above, you can see some musical instruments accompanying the main musicians. For example, violin, mridangam, ghatam, ganjira, mukharsankh, and tamburu. Let us understand their importance.

Indicators

- Performance Style
- Vocal Techniques
- Musical Instruments
- Appreciation

Pakka Vadya

Paka vadyas are instruments that play the main accompaniment in music concerts. Violin and mridangam etc are pakka vadyas.

Upa Pakka Vadya

Upa pakka vadyas are musical instruments that provide support to pakka vadyas. Khatam, ganjira and mukharsankh etc are upa pakka vadyas.

Sruthi Vadya

The instruments that accompany the sruti are known as sruti vadyas. Tamburu, harmonium, and sruti box are sruti vadyas.

Carnatic Music Concert

Carnatic music concerts are performed in an expanded manner by incorporating various musical forms of carnatic music with the addition of manodharma music. Starting with varna, kriti, keerthana, padam, javali, bhajan and tillana and ending with a mangalam, the duration of the concert is around two to four hours.

Ariyakudi Ramanuja Iyengar shaped the concerts as we see them today. Concerts can also be performed with instruments playing the lead. Eg. violin concert and veena concert.

Let's Sing...

Complete and sing the following swaramalas. Similarly, create new swaramalas in the same pattern.

SaSa	SaSa	SaSa	SaSa
RiRi	NiNi	NiNi
GaGa	DhaDha		GaGa
MaMa	PaPa	PaPa

Project

Collect the details of local Carnatic musicians and prepare a project.

Phase 1

List the musicians from your locality.

Phase 2

Identify Carnatic musicians from the list and gather available information to prepare a note.

Phase 3

Conduct an interview based on the collected information, either in person or indirectly.

Indicators

- Personal details
- Contributions
- Recognitions/Awards
- Teachers and disciples

Phase 4

Present the collected information in class as per the following suggestions

- Slide presentation
- Paper presentation
- Photo album with brief details
- Video presentation
- Interactive methods

Manodharma Sangita

A unique aspect of Indian music is Manodharma sangita which involves spontaneous creativity. Ragalapana, niraval, and swaraprastharam are the main genres of Manodharma sangita. Ragalapana: Exploring the structure of a raga through syllables like ta, da, ri, na, aa. Niraval: Repeating selected lyrics of a composition in various melodic variations and in the same raga. Swaraprastharam (Manodharma Swaram): Singing notes in different patterns while incorporating rhythmic sequences. Continuous training, listening skills, and exceptional talent are required to sing Manodharma sangita. Accompanying instrumentalists also display their skills during concerts. After the main compositions, percussion artists collectively perform a rhythmic interlude called 'thaniyavartanam'.

Samudaya Krithis (Group Compositions)

A set of compositions based on a specific theme or related to deities of worship is called Samudaya Krithis. These are typically seen in groups of five or nine compositions. Examples of Samudaya Krithis are Pancharatna Krithis, Navagraha Krithis, and Navaratri Krithis.

Visual language plays an important role in making communication possible. Here, communication using visual elements is possible. In all regions, the red colour seen in the traffic signal means 'Stop the vehicle.' Similarly, school, railway station, electricity, time, love, forest, etc., are often expressed through visual language. Note down how they are depicted.

Let's create symbols

We understood about visual language. Based on this draw symbols for the following ideas.

1. Happiness
2. Music
3. Environment
4. Sports

Project

Prepare and present a project for 'Kerala Tourism Campaign'

Phase 1: Logo Creation

Create a logo for Kerala Tourism that captures the characteristics of Kerala's culture. Prepare a design sketch of the logo covering following topics.

- Geography of Kerala
- Cultural Diversity
- Water Bodies
- Celebrations
- Festivals
- Linguistic Diversity
- Cuisine
- Food
- Climate
- Art
- Music
- Technology

Campaign

A campaign is a series of promotion of a product or service with a specific plan. It is one of the ways to deliver a product or service to specific costumers. There are various methods to deliver an advertisement to the consumers like posters, hoardings, newspaper, ads, etc.

Types of Campaigns:

1. Product Launch Campaign
2. Seasonal Campaign
3. Social Media Campaign
4. Public Service Campaign

Branding

When a new product or service is introduced in the market it has to be decided how it should be received in the mind of customers. Entrepreneurs should research and study the target consumers, the importance of market, products and service goals. At this stage the theme, name, logo, caption, colours, patterns, fond, design etc. of the product or service are determined. These type of activity is called branding. There are several kinds of branding.

Types of Branding

- Corporate Branding
- Product Branding
- Service Branding
- Geographical Branding

Phase 2 – Logo Presentation

- The logo selected from the design sketches is being completed. The prepared logo can be presented in various ways like digital presentation or manual presentation.

  (The notes, references, study of the current situation, design sketches, concepts, colour, etc which were collected for logo presentation could also be presented.)

Phase 3 – Print Advertisement

Preparing Posters

Prepare one or two posters covering various features of Kerala culture either digitally or manually.

- Include the logo on the poster.
- Include a caption.
- Various composition methods can be used

Logo of Kerala State Goverment

Logo of The State Council of Educational Research and Training (SCERT) Kerala

Designing (Design)

In visual art, design refers to the creative arrangement of elements such as lines, colours, shapes, textures, and surface characteristics etc. A design is a unified creation. Design is used to create a visual language through balance, rhythm, intensity, and proportion. While design may sometimes be aesthetic and visual, its completeness is achieved when an intended message or idea is communicated effectively. A design often begins with sketches, plans, or outlines. Various software, AI tools, and mobile applications can be used for designing. Design is an integral part of diverse fields and industries, including technology, architecture, art, and engineering. Creativity, critical thinking, and technical expertise are essential to communicate ideas effectively.

Phase 4 – Create a Model

Prepare a model of a coffee shop for Kerala Tourism.

- The model can be in 2D or 3D.
- Logo can be used
- Caption can be used
- Apply suitable shapes and colours.

Phase 5 – Video Advertisement

Make a less than 30 second video advertisement based on the diversity of Kerala to create a logo for Kerala Tourism.

- Prepare the script and storyboard.
- The logo and caption should be there.
- Complete shooting by including various shot divisions.
- Edit using software or applications.
- Add music, background sounds, and Foley effects.
- Voice-over can be given.
- Export and complete the process.

Phase 6 – Final Presentation

Include the following in the presentation

- Sketches prepared for the campaign
- Logo
- Poster
- Coffee shop model
- Video advertisement

The presentations can be in exhibition mode or as digital presentation mode.

Art and Design Industry

In the art and design industry, besides designing, there are numerous fields related to fine arts. These fields open up vast employment opportunities.

- Graphic Designing
- Architecture
- Typography
- Illustration
- Fashion Designing
- Footwear Designing
- Animation
- Curation
- Automobile Designing
- Jewellery Designing
- Product Designing

From Text to Theatre

How can we learn a lesson?

We can learn lessons through singing, storytelling, and acting in plays. Everyone close your eyes and imagine that your body is smaller than an atom. You and your friends are on an excursion between electrons and neutrons. How was your trip?

Let us form four groups. Each group should select one of the following topics. Based on your chosen imaginary setting, depict the movements and conversations of the characters in a caricature style.

Background	The character
1. Sea City	Traffic police and vehicles
2. A Place where you don't feel weight	Elephant, JCB, Ant
3. Ice cream Island in chocolate sea	Children
4. Talkative Forest	Talking trees and creatures

Discuss whether all the presentations effectively conveyed the imaginative setting. What can be done to make the imaginative setting more engaging? Share your thoughts.

The method of using drama as a learning tool is called Curriculum Drama. It is used to transform lessons into enjoyable and less burdensome experiences.

Imaginative contexts and characters can be creatively utilised to make the presentation of topics in all subjects more engaging and interesting.

Project

Create a presentation text based on a plot identified from the curriculum, incorporating elements of place, time, and era while considering the possibilities of drama.

Field: Curriculum Subjects

Who can be approached for assistance to do this project?

- Experts in the chosen topic
- Textbooks related to the selected subject
- School library
- Help from classmates and guardians
- Assistance from local theatre practitioners

Considerations for Selecting the Topic

- The selected lesson should be suitable for dramatisation.
- The importance of the theme must be ensured.
- Supporting materials should be available in the school or nearby.

Theatre in Education (TIE)

Theatre in education is the child centered applied drama, which is prepared and presented by trained artists or teachers. The performance are conducted for fulfilling the educational goal of the students or audience. We use simple costumes and stage properties for the TIE presentations like role play, skit, mime, micro dramas and musical performance.

Role Play

Role play is a theatrical technique where a person adopts the physical and mental state, characteristics, attitudes, and approaches of another individual to enact the role of a designated character in a dramatic situation.

Keerthi Jain

Keerthi Jain is a renowned theatre artist who acquired nationwide acclaim as a director, teacher and writer. She completed her education at National School of Drama. She introduced Theatre In Education (TIE) programme while she was the director of National School of drama. She has received prestigious awards, including the BV Karanth Smriti Award and the Sangeet Natak Akademi Award.

- Select a theme that should be completed within a particular time frame.

Outline

We need to prepare an outline for how the selected theme can be transformed into a play.

Collection of Materials

Various materials are required to create the play and prepare the script. These should be identified based on the themes.

Different Phases of the Project

- Select a story or theme from textbooks on science, language, mathematics, history, etc.
- Study the storyline and the time period, then draft a background suitable for the narrative.
- Prepare the outline and materials, discuss within the group, and incorporate necessary changes.
- Create a script that includes dialogues reflecting the characters' traits while ensuring the original content of the lesson is preserved.
- The script must also include details about stage arrangements, props, and items needed for the performance.

- Panjab University - Chandigarh
- Tamil University - Thanjavoor
- National School of Drama Regional Centres - Banglore, Gangtok, Agarthala, Varanasi
- Inter-Cultural Theatre Institute Singapore

Open file 1.4 of Class 10.

Additional Activities

- Explain how to organise rehearsals necessary for the performance.
- Prepare a detailed outline for the performance, including the placement of props and stage equipment, the mode of presentation, and the spatial requirements for the performance

Open file 1.5 of Class 10.

The term "Kathakali" originated from the act of playing and presenting a story. The interpretation of "playing a story" involves narrating the essence of a story through dance and the four types of acting (Chaturvidhabhinaya).

The initial form of Kathakali was known as 'Ramanattam.' It was created by organising the Ramayana into eight distinct stories. Kottarakkara Thampuran was the founder of Ramanattam. Hence, Kottarakkara Thampuran is considered as the founder of Kathakali.

Over the time, many changes were introduced to Ramanattam. Themes from other epics and Puranas like the Mahabharata and Bhagavata were incorporated, evolving into the Kathakali performances we see today.

Kathakali is an art form that demands rigorous training. Exercises such as Chavitti Uzhichil (foot massage), Kaal Sadhakam (leg exercises), Kannu Sadhakam (eye exercises), and Meyyabhyaasam (body training) form part of Kathakali training. After mastering the steps, performers train in hand gestures and acting, eventually incorporating these into dance with accompanying songs.

The instruments used in Kathakali include Chenda, Maddalam, Idakka, Ilathalam, and Chengila. For female characters, Chenda is not used; instead, Idakka is used.

Project

Prepare a project on dance training centres that had existed or currently exist in your locality. Conduct a field study based on the indicators provided below.

Indicators

- Dance forms
- Location of the dance school
- Year of establishment
- Teaching methodology
- Number of students
- Do students of different ages study there?
- Items for which training is given
- Performance venues
- Objective of the training centre
- Training schedule
- Local cultural interactions
- Opportunities for advanced studies
- Integrated educational opportunities with other fields

Phase 1

Collect available information about nearby dance schools.

Phase 2

Visit the dance schools and, based on the indicators provided above, gather information, conduct interviews, take photos and videos, and prepare documentation.

Phase 3

Identify opportunities for advanced studies in the dance departments of the school, details of students who have excelled, their performances, achievements, and career prospects. Prepare a report.

Phase 4

Prepare a report based on the following questions:

Do regional cultural interventions of dance schools contribute to social transformation? If so, how?

Do you agree with competition-oriented dance education?

How would your envisioned dance school look like?

Phase 5

Present the prepared reports/photos/video documentation in the form of a slide presentation.

Chavara Parukkutty Amma (1944–2019)

Chavara Parukkutty was a renowned Kathakali artist who made a mark in the male-dominated field of Kathakali. Trained in the Kaplingadan tradition, she excelled in both female and male roles. Parukkutty Amma was an inspiration to women who ventured into the field of Kathakali.

Guru Gopinath (1908-1987)

Guru Gopinath, a Kathakali artist, was the creator of Kerala Natanam. Kerala Natanam is a modern art from incorporating the dance and acting tecniques of Kathakali. It often adopts themes from epics as well as contemporary subjects.

Children's Cinema

"Freedom is nectar,
Freedom is life itself,
Slavery, for gentleman
Is scarier than death."

These lines are written by the great poet Kumaranasan, about freedom. Whoever does't wish for freedom? We like to watch birds flapping their wings and rising to the sky, butterflies fluttering from one flower to another. Whatever blessing is there other than giving wings to our thoughts and imaginations and embracing the life we wish to live? Through this we can contemplate the endless skies mingle with various open spaces of life and move forward. There will be people among us who are denied these opportunities. Shall we dream of a time when all live with freedom?

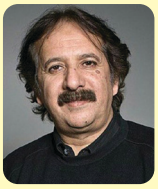
Children's Cinema

Children's cinemas are those that deal with children's issues. They present issues related to children generally and make children as characters. They help children to find out their space in the society and to maintain a warm relationship with others.

Children's films are those that help develop the children's imaginative and emotional developments, not the commercial films targeting children as the audience.

Film production is a group activity that combines various areas. Films provide opportunity to people with various artistic talents to flourish in their own fields. Furthermore, as it is an art of technology it provides opportunity for those who are experts in technology to flourish in their field.

Majid Majidi



Majid Majidi is an internationally renowned Iranian filmmaker, producer, and screenwriter. His films often depict the innocence and resilience of children in the face of complex social issues. Compassion and humanity are the hallmarks of his works.

The Colour of Paradise (1999), The Song of Sparrows (2008), Baran (2001), and The Sun (2020) are some of his notable films.

Project

Prepare a story based on the subject of your interest from incidents, literary works or your imagination and a make short film.

Group 3

Find suitable actors for the characters in the script.

Group 4

Conducts discussion and decides the materials for art direction, costumes for characters, and the appearance of characters.

Group 5

Shoots according to the script with the help of the storyboard (Use school's camera or mobile phone camera).

Group 6

They should have an awareness on designing and editing.

Stages of Film Production

(The stages of film production mentioned above can be modified and rearranged as needed to suit the requirements of the production.)

Group 7

Makes arrangements for the groups working for the various areas of film production eg. transportation facilities, food etc.

Group 8

Conducting an overview of the production/work, coordinating the other groups

Coordination

Groups 1, 2 (Script, Story board) discuss with groups 3, 4, 5 (casting, art direction cinematography), prepare a note on the materials needed for film production and coordinate precisely.

Present the materials in the class and give awareness to the participants of each group. All the participants should engage in preparing the shooting time schedule. Group 8 should take charge of this responsibility.

Points to Note in the Coordination Diary

- Master copy of the script
- Storyboard, Casting list
- Dates of the rehearsal camp
- Costume, Makeup, Art direction
- Shooting – time schedule
- Editing, dubbing – details

Some of the finest examples of children's films worldwide are 'Children of Heaven', 'Where Is My Friend's Home', 'The White Balloon', and 'Turtles Can Fly'. Satyajit Ray's 'Goopy Gyne Bagha Byne' is such a film.

In Malayalam, several children's films have been made, including

M.T. Vasudevan Nair's 'Kadav', Aravindan's 'Kummatti', Harikumar's 'Pularvettam', and

P. Chandrakumar's 'Mini'.

The Children's Film Society of India continues to promote the production and exhibition of children's films.

Shooting and Editing

Each group must complete the tasks assigned to them through discussion and carry out the shooting. Appropriate editing of the visuals shot using the camera should be done with the help of computer editing software. Add sound and background music to complete the film.

Film Festival

The films made in different classes should be screened as part of a festival. In the screening hall, arrangements should be made for a digital projector, proper sound system, and curtains to control external light.

A name, poster, brochure, delegate badge, and festival book must be prepared for the film festival.

The festival book should contain the title of each film, a summary, duration, key details, and visuals.

Beyond the Vision

Observe the photographs given above. Each of them is related to different areas of photography. While capturing these photographs, each of the aspects like composition methods, lenses, tripods and other related equipments may vary.

Note down the areas in photography based on your knowledge.

1. Nature photography
2. Sports photography
3. Creative photography
4. Fashion photography
5. Product photography
6. Wildlife photography
7. _____
8. _____

Let's Take Photograph

- Choose an area of your interest, take photographs and exhibit them in the class. You can edit if it is necessary.
- You can make use of the composition methods you learned in the previous years, such as the rule of the third and the golden ratio.
- Prepare notes including the features, possibilities, relevance, technology and the experts in the area of your interest, and present it in the class.
- Try to improve your photos by arranging ISO, shutter speed and aperture in the camera. You can make use of the DSLR camera of your school.

Rule of the Third

The Golden Ratio

Open file 10.2 of class 10

You can capture varied types of photographs by controlling the light in the camera and lense using aperture, shutter speed and ISO. You can make use of mobile applications and softwares to crop and edit the captured photos. Eg- GIMP

You can conduct an exhibition of the printed photographs in your school and evaluate one another.

Project

Creative Photography

Find out and creatively capture diverse visuals from your surroundings and exhibit them. Observational skill, creative thinking and technical expertise are essential components of creative photography.

Take photographs based on the indicators given below.

Indicators

- Light and shade
- Composition methods
- Different camera angles
- Light controlling techniques in the camera
- If available, use wide, normal, tele and macro lenses
- Use DSLR camera of the school, or mobile phone camera
- By using manual mode in a DSLR or Pro-mode in a phone camera, you can capture images with greater creativity.

Phase 1

Find out diverse visuals and capture images creatively. Focus on different angles, composition techniques, and light shade controls while taking photos.

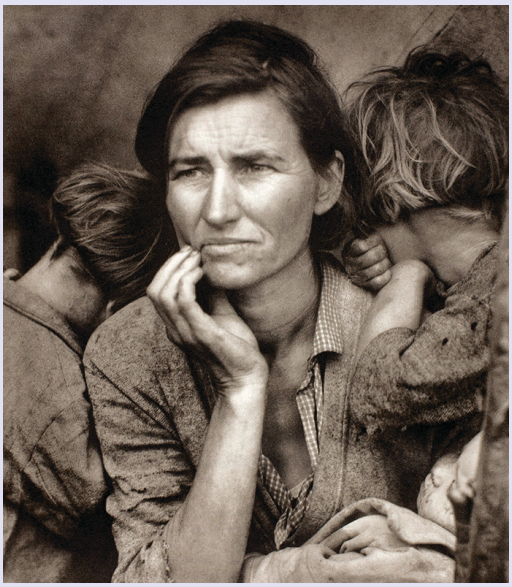
Phase 2

Review and evaluate the captured photos on a computer screen, projector, or phone screen. If necessary, you can make lighting arrangements, cropping, colour correction etc using softwares or applications. You can add the name, class, division, date on which the photo is taken, time and the other titles typed on the appropriate space of the photograph. Edit and finish the photograph.

Photo Journalism

Photo journalism is a branch of photography that uses photo as part of the process of developing news. Photograph helps readers to understand the message within the news presented. Using photograph effectively to convey news to the people and to present the news in a new and varied style are the methods of photo journalism.

The photograph taken by American photographer Dorothea Lange in 1936 is given below. It depicts the tragic plight of migrant farm workers who arrived California in search of work during the period of the great depression. This photo can be considered as a fine example for the documentation of a social condition.



'Migrant Mother' Dorthea Lange

Phase 3

One or two completed photographs can be printed in A4/A3 size. The printed photographs could be framed to finalise them. (Recall the method of framing you have learned in the ninth standard).

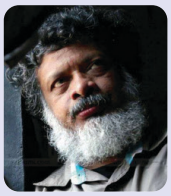
Phase 4

- You can organise an exhibition in the classroom or in the school surroundings. Display the framed photos at a specific distance. Give a suitable name for the exhibition.
- Exhibition could be conducted by screening the digital files of photographs with the use of a projector.
- Conduct discussions and evaluate the strengths and the weaknesses of the photographs.

Creative Photography

Creative photography is the art of capturing ideas that are discovered imaginatively on account of a situation. It is a branch of photography which goes beyond the subject and mere idea and uses perspectives, emotions and messages artistically. Better photographs could be created through the creative blending of light and shade adjustment, composition methods and technical knowledge.

Razzak Kottakkal (1959-2014)



Razak Kottakkal is a prominent photographer from Kerala. After the establishment of a studio named 'Clint' in Kottakkal, he started experimenting with photography through the interplay of light and shade. Moving closely with social movements, he joined hands with social activists and writers, and became a member of the World Peace Movement. During the America-Iraq war, he worked in Iraq as a photographer. Razak Kottakkal handled the cinematography for the documentary 'One Day From a Hangman's Life', directed by Joshy Joseph.

K.R. Sunil

K. R. Sunil is a native of Kodungallur. After securing a degree in sculpture from the College of Fine Arts, he selected photography as his field of work. His creative photographs, which focus on human life, are anthropological representations of social and environmental issues. His photography series 'Chronicle of a Disappearance' won him the India Habitat Photosphere Award in 2016. 'Vanishing Life Worlds', 'Manchukkar-The Seafarers of Malabar', 'Home' and 'Chavittunatakam' are his famous photo series.

The Music of the Land

Folk music embraces the cultural heritage of a region. It plays a pivotal role in the lives of ordinary people.

Folk art forms have evolved around the characteristics, celebrations, customs, rituals and entertainments of each region.

Identify the folk music forms that exist in your locality, discuss it and record it in your notebook.

Indian Folk Music

Each of the regions in India constitutes varied cultures. All of these places have their own folk music. Let's familiarise an important folk music branch in India.

Indicators for Discussion

- Style of rendition
- Features of the lyrics
- Musical instruments
- Style of presentation

Baul Music

Baul is a significant genre in Indian folk music culture, which is popular in West Bengal, Bangladesh, Tripura, Assam and Meghalaya. It is a continuation of the devotional poetry movement of medieval India. This includes the melodies that indicate human love and their connection with nature. There are so many Baul songs under Boudha- Vaishnava- Tantric categories. Most of the existing Baul songs were written by Lalon Fakir, the famous Baul poet. Regional musical instruments like ektara, dotara, duggi, flute, hand bells, and ankle bells are integral components.

Ektara

Ektara is an ancient string instrument in India. Baul singers use to play ektara in accompaniment to the song. It is popular in the Indian states like Bengal and Rajasthan, and countries like Pakistan and Bangladesh. The name ektara originated because of it's single string. There is also its two stinged variety. It is called dotara/dutara.

Let's Sing

Find out regional folk songs and present them in groups with the accompaniment of regional musical instruments.

Project

Prepare a project based on the folk music prevalent in your locality.

Phase 1

Prepare brief research notes on the origin/history of folk music, folk music forms/branches, the specialities of folk music/singing style, the diversity of traditional musical instruments, and the details about folk singers.

Phase 2

Collect more details of folk music and prepare notes for introducing the music prevalent in each region.

Phase 3

Collect local folk songs.

Phase 4

Organise the collected notes and prepare for a paper presentation/ digital presentation titled Regional Folk Music. (Include suitable pictures, videos etc.)

Phase 5

Present a project in the class in the form of a paper presentation/ digital presentation including the above given details about the subject, Regional Folk Music.

Phase 6

Perform the collected folk songs in the class. Students can present self - composed folk songs also.

- Individual presentation
- Group presentation

Esraj

Esraj is a string instrument used in musical traditions like Punjabi-Sikh music and Rabindra Music in Bengal. It is played while seated, using the left hand to play the string and using the right hand to play with a bow. Esraj has similarities with the musical instrument Dilruba. Rabindranath Tagore had instructed the students of Sangeeta Bhavan in Santiniketan to practice Esraj mandatorily. Arshad Khan, a native of Bengal, is a famous Esraj player.

Lalon Fakir

Lalon Fakir is a musician who lived in the 18th century. Born in 1774, he wrote and composed around a thousand Baul songs. Baul singers have found out around six hundred of these songs and still continue to sing them. Known as 'the Baul of Bauls', Lalon Fakir significantly influenced Rabindranath Tagore.

Dr. Teejan Bai

Dr. Teejan Bai is a prominent singer of Pandvani, a folk music tradition popular in Chhattisgarh, and nearby regions. Born in a tribal community in 1956, Teejan Bai overcame severe challenges to bring Padvani to global recognition. She received honours like Padmasree(1987), Padma Bhushan (2003) and Sangeet Natak Akademi Award.

Into the History

Have you ever thought about a time when language and culture had not progressed? How could the people have communicated during that time? Perhaps it was through gestures and meaningless sounds. Shall we move back to that period?

The pupils in the class are formed into two groups, A and B. Members of group A talk to the members of group B about their study trip to a historically important place. They talk in gibberish. Is communication possible through this way? Now, group B can present an idea to group A through gibberish. Group A can present this situation in spoken language. Is the idea clear? Discuss.

Performance was there, right from the time of the origin of human beings, we can say. Homo sapiens, the modern humans emerged around three lakhs years ago. After that they migrated to different continents. This led to the origin of diversity in their cultural background. The interventions as part of the interaction for survival led to cultural awareness and self renewal. This process led to the possibilities of performing arts.

Knowing about the evolution of drama is equally important as watching and presenting a drama. Shall we enquire about it.

Project

Find theatre groups, theatre clubs, drama artists and cultural theatre centres existing or existed nearby your school, and collect details regarding their theatre techniques and training methods. Present it as a project.

You can include in the project the socio-cultural background of regional drama and the way in which they were reflected in life. You can note down how regional drama interfered with social issues like health, education, gender equality etc. The project can be prepared in written, video or audio formats.

Whose help can be sought for preparing the project?

- Regional theatre groups
- Theatre artists and experienced hands in the nearby regions
- Drama study groups
- Cultural organisations

Anuradha Kapur

Anuradha Kapur, a former teacher and director at the National School of Drama, Delhi, has directed numerous plays that gained national and international acclaim. She has directed and presented street plays as part of women's theatre movements. She got a Ph.D. in drama from the Theatre of Leeds (U.K.). She has received the Kendra Sangeet Natak Akademi Award.

Gibberish

Gibberish is the technique of conveying dialogues and sounds beyond the use of language. It uses the technique of expressing emotions and ideas in the pronunciation style of the language, using meaningless words or grammarless sentences.

Open file 2.3 of Class 10.

Phase 1

Data collection should be conducted through interviews and questionnaires. Information about traditional theatrical practices, exploration of performance spaces, collection of themes and stories used in performances, old newspaper reports and articles could be used in it.

The knowledge about traditional practices, the music, dance and visual elements included in regional theatre forms could be included.

You can prepare your own set of questions for data collection as part of the project.

Eg:-

- Were there opportunities for conducting cultural activities then?
- How long has the theatre troupe been into existence?
- What themes were handled in theatrical performances of the past? What changes came into existence now?
- How did you find the financial source for the performance?

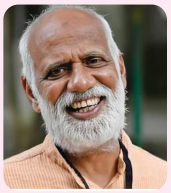
Phase 2

Identify and document the properties that were used in performances across different regions or cultures, but no longer in use even in everyday life now.

Phase 3

You can present the collected information and notes either digitally or manually. Discuss the strengths and limitations. Plan and execute follow up activities.

K.J. Baby



K. J. Baby was born in Kannur in 1954. He is renowned as theatre activist, writer, and cultural activist. He founded 'Kanavu', an educational centre in Wayanad, in 1994. During the period of emergency, he traveled across Kerala with his play "Nadugaddika". He wrote the plays "Keeyu Lokath Ninnu", "Uyirppu", and "Kunji Mayeen Enthayirikkum Paranjathu". He directed the movie "Guda". He has received the Kerala Sahitya Akademi Award.

Abhilash Pillai

Abhilash Pillai is an internationally acclaimed drama director from Kerala. He completed his education from institutions like Thrissur School of Drama, Delhi National School of Drama, and Royal Academy of Dramatic Art, London. "Midnight Children", "Helen", "Ara Ek Bada Basheer", "Poomalakatha" and "Talatam" are his major plays. He has worked as a Professor in the National School of Drama, and as the Director of School of Drama, Thrissur

Ritualistic Steps

Kerala's performing arts could be categorised as ritualistic and recreational, based on the performance contexts. The art forms performed in ritualistic contexts are known as ritual arts. Eg- Theyyam, Thira, Mudiyettu, Padayani, Rathib etc.

Art forms performed for entertainment purposes are known as recreational arts. Eg- Kolkali, Kakkarassinatakam etc.

Let's Find Out

Identify and list out the ritual and recreational regional art forms that are practised now, or that were practised once and became extinct.

Based on form and structure, folk performing arts could be divided into folk dance and folk drama. Folk dance comprises rhythmic steps and body movements. Folk dramas are art forms that narrate some incidents or stories. Art forms like Theyyam, Thira, Mudiyettu, Ninabali and Chavittu Natakam have more dramatic elements, and those like Thidambu Nritham, Kolkkali, Chavittu Kali, Kalattakkali, Chozhikali, Thiruvathira, Dafmuttu and Margam Kali have more dance elements.

The 'mukhathezhuth' of different Theyyams are given in the pictures.

Identify other performance art forms of Kerala with similar face art (mukhathezhuth).

Find out whether the materials used for the lines and colours of 'mukhathezhuth' are used in any other art forms, and discuss.

The Dance Style of Theyyam

The dance style of each Theyyam has a specific rhythmic pattern. The Theyyam performer acquires body flexibility with a long term training in order to perform special dance styles, make movements while dancing, move in circle while dancing, put steps gently etc.

Ornamentals

Natural materials like rice paste(arichanth), charkol, turmeric, lime, manayola and chayilyam are used for mukhathezhuth. Theyyams could be categorised based on mudi(head decoration), mukhathezhuth, meyyezhuth(body decoration), udayada(costume), ornaments etc. Theyyams use various mudis(headdresses) like valiyamudi, vattamudi, peelimudi, pookkatti mudi, chattamudi, koomb mudi, kothachamudi, kodumudi, purathattu, palamudi, thoppichamayam, olamudi, ilamudi etc.

Ornaments

Mukhathezhuth and meyyezhuth not only enhance appearance, but also help convey various expressions. Poymukham, poynakku, poykannu, poykathu, kaivala, katakam, kaiyyura, chennippathi, chilamb(anklet), pattum patakavum, manikkayalu, thalappali etc. are the various ornaments used in Theyyam.

Project

Have you familiarised with the various ritualistic dance forms in Kerala?

You can find such dance forms in your locality also. Prepare a project including their social background and presentation styles.

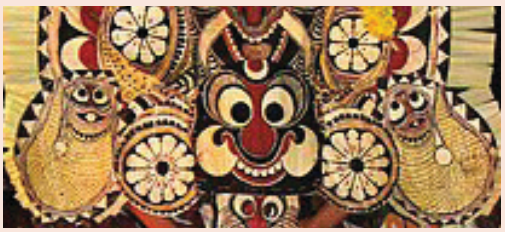
Indicators

- The features of ritualistic dance performances
- Various ritualistic dance forms
- The characteristics of the movements of steps
- The significance of costume in dance performance/ presentation
- Make up
- Speciality of acting
- Collection of data regarding the artists of ritualistic dance forms
- The mythology and conceptual background of ritualistic arts

Phase 1

In the initial phase, prepare notes based on the indicators. Find out various dance presentations and prepare notes including their features, costumes, make up, acting, steps and presentation style.

Padayani



Padayani is a ritualistic art from popular in Pathanamthitta, Kottayam, Kollam and Alappuzha districts. Padayani includes several 'thullal' traditions. Thavadi, pulavritham, paradeshi, kolam thullal etc. are thullal traditions which need rigorous training in kalari for stage performance. In Padayani, we can see the rhythmic applying of legs, hands and the body. Otta, iratti, mukkanni, valya mukkanni, thetti neekkam, vetti mattam, chavittiyirakkam, chavittikkettam, vattakkal, kothukal, porukal etc. are different foot movements. Padayani is performed according to the local rhythm structures like adantha and muriyadantha. Several vaytharis(songs) are used in Padayani according to the rhythm and time/season. Padayani kolams (masks) are prepared using materials like arecanut spathe, tender coconut leaves, coconut flowers, and colour ingredients like flowers, red clay and charcoal. Padayani is performed with the accompaniment of musical instruments like thappu, kaimani and drum, in the light of fire torches.

Phase 2

Conduct interviews with artists of ritualistic dance forms. Prepare a questionnaire for that. Document the interview either as a video or written report.

Phase 3

Prepare a video documentation about a ritualistic dance form, covering its details.

Indicators

- Origin/history of the ritualistic dance
- Types of ritualistic dances
- Variety in dance steps
- The integration of dance and music
- Features of costume, make up
- Other features

Phase 4

Compile the prepared notes, interviews with performers, video documents and other details. Present the project either digitally or manually.

Gondhal

Gondhal is a traditional ritualistic folk dance performance of Maharashtra. Dance, music and drama combines equally in gondhal performance. The themes are local folk traditions and legends. Sambal and drum are the accompanying instruments.

Bison Horn Dance

This dance is performed by the Bison Horn Maria tribe of Chhattisgarh. The dancers wear a specific kind of headdress made of bison horn. It is a ritualistic dance associated with harvest and special occasions. Men and women dance together. Circular foot movements is a speciality of Bison dance.

Along With Truth

Documentaries are non-fiction films designed to inform, make aware, and evoke thought among the audience on various subjects like life issues, environmental problems, events and personalities. These films provide a unique perspective on the world and serve as a direct look into reality. Through visuals, descriptions and interviews they evoke critical thinking and lead to knowledge acquisition.

Documentaries cover a wide range of topics from historical narratives and social justice to scientific explorations and political - cultural figures and their lives. “Behind the Mist” by Babu Kambrath, which highlights the tragic plight of plantation workers in Munnar, and “Endosulfan: Paradise for Dying” by M. A. Rahman are notable Malayalam documentaries addressing environmental issues.

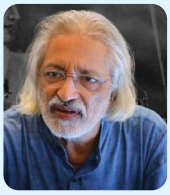
Things to Consider in Documentary Production

- A documentary must be approached with comprehensiveness, authenticity and commitment.
- Examine the facts and approach the matter objectively.
- Find out facts and situations in order to provide depth and awareness on the subject.
- Prepare interview questions so as to explore thoughts and emotions.
- Decide the narrative method, style and structure of presentation.
- Ensure authenticity by integrating suitable photos, videos and voice clips.
- Capture everyday moments to reveal personality and lifestyle.

Anand Patwardhan



Anand Patwardhan is a renowned Indian documentary filmmaker, human rights promoter, social worker and activist. Ram Ke Nam (1992), Pithr, Puthr Aur Dharmayudha (1995), Jang Aur Aman (2002), and Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam (2024) are his major documentaries. He was the first recipient of the Lifetime Achievement Award at the 11th International Documentary and Short Film Festival of Kerala (IDSFFK).

Phase 1:

Concept formation

- List out notable events and personalities in the environmental, cultural, social, political scenario of your locality.
- Find out suitable persons or events from the list, to make the documentary.

Phase 2

- Collect maximum information about the selected persons/events.
- If it is about persons, meet them and discuss the objective, the filming schedule and the details of the documentary. Fix the date for filming.
- Prepare a suitable shooting script for developing the concept.

Phase 3

Shooting

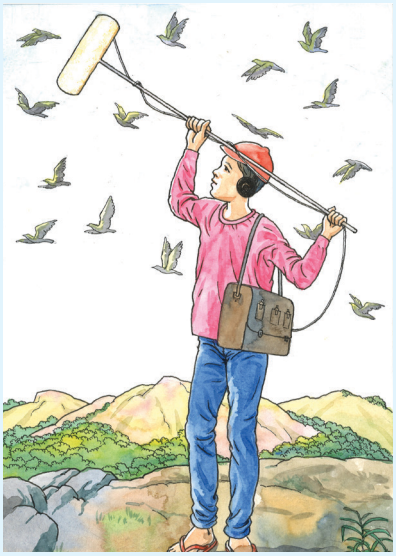
The shooting group should conduct the shoot based on the prepared outline. You can use the school's camera or mobile phone camera. Conduct sound recording and ambience sound recording. Use collar mic and shotgun mic.

Phase 4

Editing

Conduct editing by organising the visuals in accordance with the concept, and adding appropriate background music and sounds.

Use your school's computer or mobile application software for editing. Include voice over and narration.



Spot Recording

Recording sound at the shooting location itself is known as spot recording. It is also referred to as sync sound and live sound. It helps to maintain naturality for dialogues and other sounds, and to synchronise sound with the visuals.

Narration

Narration is the voice detailing that accompanies visuals to provide additional explanation on the visuals, and to provide a different layer of meaning to the audience

Documentary Screening

Organise screening of the documentaries made by different classes.

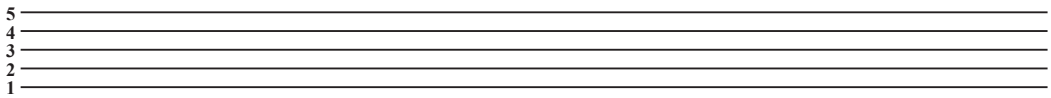
3.5 Scenography

Notation

The symbols and notes of Western music are shown above. There are many symbols like minim, crotchet, quaver, treble clef and bass clef. Let's learn how to use these symbols.

Let's Understand

The process of recording music using various symbols and signs is called notation. It is also referred to as musicography or musical script. Western music primarily uses staff/stave notation which consists of five horizontal lines and four spaces in between. In the diagram below, the lines in the staff are numbered from the bottom to top.



The clef is the symbol written at the beginning of the staff.

The symbol of Treble Clef (indicates high-pitched sounds): 𝄞

The symbol of Bass Clef (indicates low-pitched sounds): 𝄢

Through Symbols

The notes on the five lines of the treble clef can be learned as E, G, B, D, and F. These notes are marked above the lines.

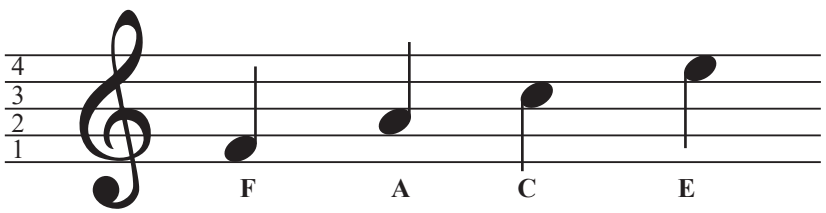
Look at the four notes in the treble clef.

These notes are marked in the spaces between the lines.

The notes in the four spaces are F, A, C, E.



Let's Draw...

1. Draw the notes marked on the five lines of the treble clef.

2. Mark the notes in the 4 spaces of the treble clef.

Learning the phrase "Every Good Boy Does Fine" makes it easier to remember and mark the notes E, G, B, D, and F on the treble clef.

For example: To identify the note on the third line, recall "Every, Good, Boy," and you'll know the note on the third line is B.

Similarly,

remembering "FACE" helps to quickly recall the notes in the four spaces of the treble clef.

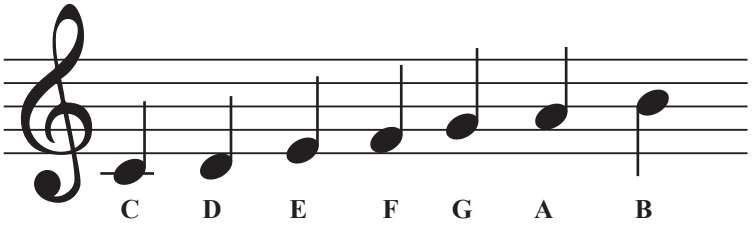
Seven Notes of Treble clef



Project

Collect information about famous Western musicians and prepare a project. Also, listen to the songs by these musicians and write reviews.

Phase 1

Identify prominent Western musicians (at least five). Collect available information and prepare notes.

Phase 2

Based on the notes prepared in Phase 1, gather detailed information using the following indicators.

Indicators

- Time period
- Language
- Contributions
- Venues
- Accolades
- Compositions

Phase 3

Listen to Johann Sebastian Bach's "Minute in C Major" and Richard Wagner's "The Ring Cycle" and prepare a note of appreciation.

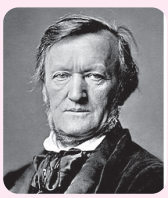
Phase 4

Present the information gathered in Phase 2 and the appreciation prepared in Phase 3 as a paper presentation or digital presentation in the class.

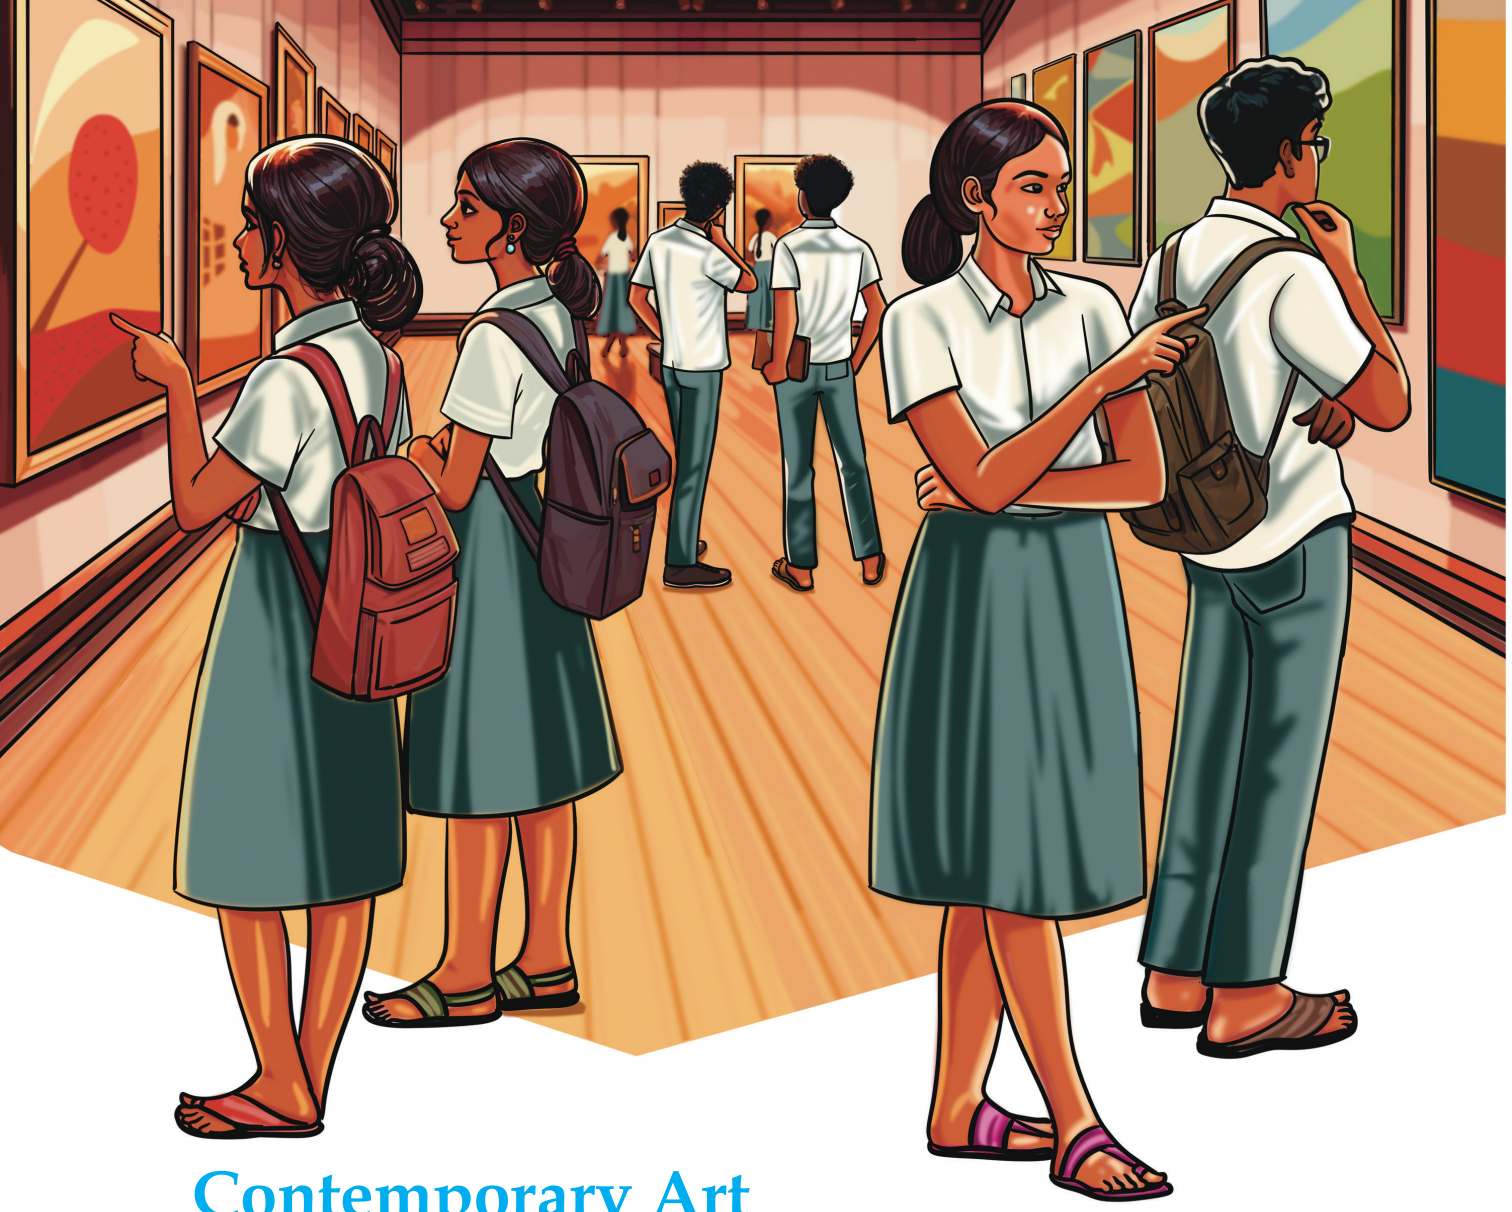
Johann Sebastian Bach (1685 – 1750)

Bach was a renowned composer from the late Baroque period. Bach was the composer of various works that were rich in the use of varied musical instruments and novel music. He is regarded as the father of Western classical music. Later notable musicians such as Frederic Chopin and Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart drew inspiration from him.

Richard Wagner (1813 – 1883)



Richard Wagner was a famous German composer who introduced revolutionary changes to Western classical music. His musical dramas are very famous. The three operas he composed between 1843 and 1851 are referred to as Wagner's Romantic Operas. One of his greatest artistic achievements is The Ring Cycle.



Contemporary Art

Have you observed what contemporary art is?

You can visit an art gallery to view a contemporary art exhibition and prepare a review. What can be included in an art review?

- The concept of the artwork
- Colour distribution
- Attractiveness
- Imaginative aspects
- Arrangement of forms

The review can also include conversations with the artists, collected concept notes or feedback from other viewers. Will the prepared review be presented in the class?

Project

Prepare a concept based on the diversity of Kerala's contemporary social situations and create an art project (painting, installation, new media, sculpture). Develop an outline and present it in the class.

Indicators

- Time period
- Concept
- Outline
- Media

Phase 1

Identify artists engaged in contemporary painting/sculpture in Kerala and prepare a note.

Key Points to Observe

- Stylistic features
- Clarity of concept
- Name, place and other details of the artists
- Local aspects
- Conduct interview with the artists
- Explain their living conditions and creative environment

Contemporary Art

The term contemporary art refers to art created from 1960 to the present. Contemporary artists represent a world influenced by globalisation, cultural diversity, and technological advancements. The uniqueness of contemporary art lies in its fusion of diverse styles, media, concepts, and themes. Contemporary art does not adhere to a single objective or viewpoint. It is diverse, open to discussions, critical, and expressive.

Durbar Hall Art Centre, Ernakulam

Durbar Hall, the most modern art gallery of Kerala Lalithakala Akademi, hosts numerous exhibitions by contemporary artists and students. It has also been the venue for internationally acclaimed exhibitions. A permanent gallery exists here in memory of the renowned artist T.K. Padmini.

Phase 2

Analyse the stylistic diversity in contemporary painting and sculpture, as well as the similarities and differences in the selection of themes and prepare a note.

Indicators

- Observe and analyse the stylistic similarities and differences in paintings/ sculptures by different artists.
- Document paintings/ sculptures as photos/ videos.
- Analyse the difference of medium used.

Phase 3

- Visit various art galleries in Kerala, observe the artworks directly, and critically analyse them to prepare a note.
- Collect brochures, curator notes, and concept notes from the art exhibitions.
- Engage in discussions with artists and prepare notes.
- Include observations of visual experience and the level of appreciation in the notes.

Open file 3.2 of Class 10

Kerala Lalithakala Akademi

The Kerala Lalithakala Akademi, an autonomous cultural organisation under the Government of Kerala, was established in 1962 with the aim of preserving and promoting visual art in Kerala. The Akademi organises art camps, workshops, exhibitions, and seminars to foster artistic endeavours, making it an undeniable presence in Kerala's contemporary art scene. In addition to its headquarters in Thrissur, it operates art galleries in Kochi (Durbar Hall Art Centre), Thiruvananthapuram (Vyloppilly Samskrithi Bhavan), Kottayam, Alappuzha, Kozhikode, Malampuzha (Palakkad), Malappuram, Thalassery, Payyannur (Kannur), Mananthavadi (Wayanad) and Kanhangad (Kasaragod). The Akademi not only organises annual art exhibitions but also bestows state awards for excellence in art activities every year. It offers fellowships for lifetime contributions to art, awards for exceptional works by school students and art students, and grants for solo and group exhibitions.

Phase 4

Prepare a digital presentation incorporating the gathered information, photographs, and videos.

Include opinions based on the information and experiences found and observed in the presentation.

Sheela Gowda (1957)

Sheela Gowda is a prominent Indian contemporary artist, born in 1957 in Bhadravati, Karnataka. She completed her art education at Ken School of Art, Visva-Bharati University in Santiniketan, and the Royal College of Art in London. Sheela Gowda has done a variety of art works like painting, sculpture, installation and photography. The installations of sheela Gowda made from locally available materials, combining, local craftsmanship with artistic skill, made her unique among other contemporary Indian artists.

Stop Over (2012), an installation by Sheela Gowda

Atul Dodiya (1959)

Atul Dodiya, born in Bombay in 1959, has established himself as a leading figure in post-colonial Indian art. His desire to capture diverse experiences through his artwork has earned him a prominent position in the Indian art landscape. His works reflect the political, emotional, and identity-based responses to the challenges faced by an artist and citizen in a globalised and transformed Indian society. His works include paintings, installations, and sculptures.

Flash Mob

Through art, humanity has always resisted injustice in society. How can an individual resist the problems faced in the society through dance?

Flash mob is one such dance form that can be used. Do you know what to keep in mind while performing flash mob?

The entire class is collaborating to organise a flash mob. What preparations should you undertake for this? Discuss and note down the requirements based on the following pointers:

- Theme
- Music
- Dance Steps
- Costumes
- Venue
- Rehearsals

Project

As part of the Anti-Drug Day prepare and perform a flash mob titled "Say No to Drugs" at a suitable location. Document the various stages of preparing the flash mob and present it either digitally or manually as a project.

Indicators

- Concept formation and music
- Costumes and makeup
- Dance step training

Phase 1
Concept formation and Music

Choose a theme and music that highlights the importance of the topic in a way suitable for the performance.

Phase 2
Training for Dance Steps

Incorporate poses that depict the importance of the topic addressed.

Phase 3
Costumes and Makeup

Design visually appealing costumes and appropriate makeup to enhance the presentation.

Phase 4
Use of Props and Venue Setup

Use placards and other props. Plan the beginning and timing for the performance in line with the theme.

Flash Mobs

Flash mobs are sudden spontaneous dance performances created to draw attention of people to events or awareness programmes and turn them into spectators. The characteristics of flash mobs are captivating music, expressive movements, and dynamic choreography.

A group of people appears suddenly in public spaces, performs a brief dance and disperses immediately after the performance. Known as flash mobs, this art form was first organised by Bill Wasik, senior editor of Harper's Magazine, on 3rd June 2003 in Manhattan city, New York. It was initially staged as a humorous critique of a resistant conservative populace and presented as a social experiment reflecting the perspectives of the younger generation.

Though flash mobs are pre-rehearsed by performers, they offer an unexpected visual experience to spectators.

Choreography

Choreography is the creative arrangement of steps to visually interpret an idea. It is designed based on the specific characteristics of classical, folk, hip-hop, experimental dances, movements of living beings, or other contemporary dance forms. Choreography incorporates body movements, tala, flow, and expressions.

Literature, music, tala, location, lighting, costumes sound arrangements and movements are essential components of choreography. Beyond simply arranging dance steps, choreography facilitates effective communication with the audience.

Rap

Rap music is a genre loved by people all over the world. This style was originated in the African-American communities of New York City in the late 1970s. Featuring rhythmic conversations accompanied by dance moves, these songs incorporate modern dance styles like break dance and DJ. The song "Rapper's Delight" by the Sugarhill Gang, released in 1979, was the first popular creation in this genre. In the 1970s, rap played a significant role in giving voice to marginalised communities in America, solving social injustices, and promoting self-empowerment.

Hanuman kind is a famous rap by Indian rapper Sooraj Cherukad. It is a unique blend of Indian/Kerala culture and hip-hop.

Watch the visual representation of Hanuman Kind in the resource folder, observe how Kerala's cultural symbols are used in the visuals, and discuss.

The Secret of Advertising

Have you noticed this advertisement? It is a campaign by the Kerala Police published in print and social media to prevent children from falling into the trap of drug abuse. This advertisement greatly influences and attracts us. Such attractive ads result from the perfect blend of art and technology.

A video advertisement is another creation of visual and audio accompanists created in an attention grabbing manner for the marketing of products and promotion of movements or enterprise. The ultimate aim of advertisements is to increase sales, build brand awareness, promote and create awareness. Therefore catchy advertising texts, visual treat and music are the main elements of advertising.

Project

1. Create a video advertisement highlighting the excellence of your school. Include elements such as the school logo, buildings, library, labs, and bites from students and teachers. Select an attractive tagline through a competition.
2. Prepare a video advertisement for an environment-friendly product launched as part of a Kudumbashree initiative in your area (e.g., plates and spoon made of palm spathe). Select an appealing tagline.

Choose any one of these projects and complete it as a group activity.

Stages of Advertisement Production

- Concept formation
- Script Creation
- Design captions for advertisement
- Storyboard
- Shooting
- Editing & Sound Designing
- Exhibition

Content writing

Content writing is the act of writing text in advertisement to market or promote products. Advertisement text should be fresh catchy and resonate with people.

Phase 1

Conceptual Formation – Points to Consider

- The idea intended to convey through the advertisement must be clear and precise.
- The duration of the advertisement video should be between 30 seconds and 1 minute.
- Draft a script that communicates the concept effectively within the given time.
- Prepare an attractive advertisement text.

Phase 2

Storyboard

- Create a storyboard based on the script.
- Finalise character studies/casting and location selection.

Phase 3

Shooting

Shooting the visuals according to the storyboard.

- Cinematography
- Art direction
- Costumes and makeup
- Sound recording

Phase4

Editing

Edit the visuals using computer or mobile software, based on the script.

- Video Editing
- Dubbing
- Background music
- Title clips (Type and add advertisement text)

Screening of Advertisements

Screen the advertisements created by different classes using a video projector.

Scenography

An old hut comes to visibility as the lantern lights up slowly.

The impression of a hilly area, a single track leading to distance.

Wild palm groves.

Pournami comes outside the hut with a lantern in her hand.

Imagine this scene from the play 'Yakshikathakalum nattu varthamanangalum' by Vinod Kumar.

Shall we go outside in four groups?

Look at the ground. Aren't there various small stones? Collect them. Along with this collect dry leaves, small twigs and soil. Shall we make a miniature representation of the stage design for the presentation of the above given drama scene?

Using similar materials, what other backdrops can you create?

- Space around the well (Kinattinkara)
- Park
- .....
- .....

The stage showcases an expression of ideas, concepts, and life itself. For effective communication, the actor's body and voice are often insufficient. To achieve the playwright's intended purpose and ensure that their message resonates with the audience's thoughts and emotions, stage settings and presentations tailored to the script become indispensable.

Open file 3.3 of Class 10

Project

Understand the theme, time, place, and setting presented in a play and create miniature models of stage props and backdrops proportionate to the size of the stage.

Indicators

- Select a theatre script.
- Read the script.
- Understand the themes and context of the script.
- Determine how the theme and character traits can be conveyed through scenography.
- Prepare a brief note explaining how the theme and characters influenced the design of the set.
- Sketch a model of the set and props needed, using relevant references.

- Discuss the project as a group and incorporate suggestions for improvement.
- Collect materials required for construction.
- Gather raw materials and tools and begin construction.

Materials for Construction

- Cardboard boxes
- Things for packing
- Newspapers
- Wooden sticks
- Paper cups, plates

Archi-Sculpture

Living beings build or arrange habitats for their safety, rearing, shelter and protection from the climate. Anthills, termite mounds, and bird nests are examples for this.

Necessity, aesthetics, imagination, innovation, technology, and accuracy are important factors when humans construct buildings and living spaces. Architecture is the branch of study that combines art, mathematics, and technology to design and construct buildings and their surroundings.

Key Elements of Architecture

- Aesthetic Design
- Functionality
- Sustainability
- Cultural Expression
- Technology and Innovation

How does your ideal home look like? Try sketching it...

Project

Understand the factors and possibilities of your land and prepare a project on the architectures that were built or can be built. (Choose any one of the two projects explained below.)

Project 1

Prepare an architectural plan for a house by understanding the local features of the place you are most familiar with incorporating new technologies to fit the landscape. Understand the indicators given below before preparing the plan.

Indicators

- Environmental features of the construction area
- (Hills, midlands, coastal areas, slopes, terraces, flatlands, soil characteristics, water flow)
- Availability of construction materials, regional diversity in construction methods
- Modern construction technologies
- Wind, light, and weather conditions
- Requirements and preferences
- Maximum expected cost

Plan of a Building

A 3D Plan of a Building

The oldest evidences of architectural documentation is from the book De Architectura by Roman architect Vitruvius who lived in the 1st century AD

Carefully analyse the indicators, document the details, and proceed with the planning. In addition to the previously noted factors, also consider the structure, size, scope, shape, materials, and colors of the building.

Project 2

Study the distinctive features of architectures in your area, focusing on notable ones.

Indicators

- Environmental features of the region
- Local and cultural diversity and concepts
- Community formation, livelihood of the people in the area
- Structure, form and shape of building
- Availability of materials
- Methods of utilizing or considering wind and light
- Distinctive features of interior/exterior designs

After thoroughly understanding the above indicators, prepare project.

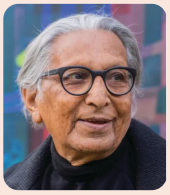
Laurie Baker (1917–2007)

Laurie Baker was a British architect and one of the pioneers of sustainable and organic architecture. After adopting Indian citizenship, Kerala became his primary place of work for many years. He popularized the concept of "low-cost housing" by designing structures that were highly efficient, aesthetically pleasing, and made with limited resources. Some of his famous architectural works include Loyola Chapel in Thiruvananthapuram, Indian Coffee House in Thampanoor, Chitralekha Film Studio in Thiruvananthapuram, Fisherman's Village in Poonthura, St. John's Cathedral in Thiruvalla and Centre for developmental studies, Ulloor. Baker was awarded the Padma Shri (1990), United Nations Roll of Honour (1992), Indian National Heritage Award (1990), and Grand Master's Award.

B.V. Doshi (1927 - 2023)



B.V. Doshi, a renowned Indian architect, was born in Pune, Maharashtra. He executed numerous architectural projects, including schools, libraries, universities, art centres, and low cost housing. His designs were deeply rooted in Indian traditions, lifestyles, and the environment. Some of his significant architectural projects are the Aranya Low-Cost Housing in Indore, the Atria Housing in Ahmedabad, the Kanoria Centre for Arts in Ahmedabad and the Gufa in Ahmedabad campus. He received prestigious accolades such as the world's best architecture award named Pritzker Architecture Prize in 2011, the Royal Gold Medal from the Royal Institute of British Architects in 2022, as well as the Padma Vibhushan and Padma Shri awards.

The following methods can be adopted for gathering details regarding architecture:

Hints

- Conduct interviews with architects
- Analyse architectural features by direct observation
- Books, journals, and souvenirs
- Oral histories, Histories
- Videos, photographs, and newspaper reports
- Available information from antiques

The prepared project can be submitted as a video documentary or a non-digital submission.

Include plans and supporting notes in the project. You may also construct a 3D model of the building using materials like cardboard and wooden sticks.

Inchakad Balachandran

These are lines from a Malayalam music album emphasizing the necessity of environmental protection. What are the prior arrangements that we have to do if we create a video album on the theme 'Nature Conservartion'. Discuss.

Music Videos

Music video albums are artistic, technical and visual expressions that combines music and visuals with or without a theme. Music videos are a unique blend of art, culture and technology that can highlight social issues, create awareness and can inspire. Such music videos not only provide enjoyment but also encourage critical thinking and visual literacy. They promote creativity, self-expression, collaboration and transform learning into an engaging and meaningful experience. Music video albums became more popular in the 1970's with the spread of television.

Project

Find suitable songs or poems and create visual representations based on their themes to develop a music album.

5. Costume, Makeup
6. Editing
7. Production Team
8. Sound Recording

Phase 1

Selection of Poems/Songs

Group 1: Poems or songs, either self-written or collected, can be selected for the music album. (If self-written songs are chosen, they need to be set to music, recorded, and converted into a music file.)

Phase 2

Storyboard

Group 2: Create a storyboard and divide the shots for the selected songs/poems in the video album. Finalise the characters. Prepare the details of locations, costumes, and makeup.

Phase 3

Casting and Direction

Select suitable actors. Provide necessary rehearsals.

Phase 4

Filming

Shoot visuals according to the storyboard.

Special attention should be given to the camera, art direction, costumes, and makeup during filming.

The production team should be ready to arrange properties, transportation facility and all other essential things related to the shooting process.

Fela Kuti (1938–1997)

Fela Kuti was a Nigerian musician and activist of Yoruba descent. He pioneered the modern music genre 'Afrobeat' by blending American blues, jazz, and funk with African traditions. He studied classical music at Trinity College in London and innovated various music styles by playing the piano in jazz and rock bands.

Phase 5

Editing

Edit the video in alignment with the song using editing software (computer/mobile phone application).

Phase 6

Project

Cultural awareness is required for understanding the essence of native art forms. (Elements like nature, climate, customs, beliefs, and lifestyle are reflected uniquely in the languages, tunes, rhythms, colors, costumes, and movements of these art forms.) Do the art forms present in your locality showcase such unique characteristics? Have you ever thought about how traditional knowledge, beliefs, and rituals exist in these art forms contemporarily? How does aesthetic awareness operate beyond cultural diversity in these art forms? Keeping in mind the unity and humanity fostered by these art forms, prepare a project. Expand the project based on the given indicators.

"Let's Dance'

Dance to the rhythm of the song "Ollullere Ollullere " in groups

Indicators

- Collect information about the native art forms prevalent in your locality.
- Special occasions for their performances.
- Movements, expressions, tala, songs, and musical instruments.
- Performing space and stage arrangements
- Language, Myth, and History.
- Costume, makeup (ornaments, mughathezhuthu).
- Interviews with performers, artistes.
- Collection of photographs and videos.
- Feedback of the audience
- Similar traditional performances from other parts of the world.

Phase 1

Prepare notes on indigenous art forms based on the given indicators and collect related images. Identify orally transmitted, myths, and stories through discussions with elders. Prepare notes on lessons, changes in time etc. Critically evaluate the information obtained regarding myths and beliefs to create an objective report.

Phase 2

Document specific occasions in your locality where indigenous art forms are performed, noting the unique characteristics of the stage, the materials used for stage preparation, the instruments that accompany the performance, the regional features in tunes, dialects, and steps. Prepare detailed notes, photographs, and videos based on your observations.

Phase 3

Interviews can be conducted with the members of the selected traditional art form for the project. Additionally, interviews with the audience connected to the art performances can also be included.

Phase 4

Based on the collected materials and prepared notes, the project can be prepared and presented. Digital documentaries that support the presentation can also be used. The project can be presented in formats such as paper presentations or slide presentations.

Malapulayattam

Malapulayattam is a traditional dance form performed by the Malapulayar community of Idukki district in Kerala. This dance is performed during festive and worship occasions by both men and women, either together or separately. It is often conducted with events like Tirandu Kalyanam (The puberty ceremony), wedding, and funeral. The duration of the dance varies depending on the occasion.

Costume

Traditionally they used to wear leaves, barks and flowers. But now men wear mundu, vests, thalakettu and kachakettu. Women use kurakettu a single cloth in green, yellow, red and white shades according to the context.

Ornaments

Traditional ornaments, various coloured stone necklaces, earrings, flowers, and anklets.

Music and Songs

Malapulayattam begins with the playing of the kuzhal (music instrument) In some occasions drums are played along with vaytharis.

Instruments:

The main instruments used are chikku vadyam, urumi, kidumutti, kuzhal, and kattavadyam.

Performance

The dance begins with the blowing of a kuzhal (musical instrument). Dancers form circles or lines, striking wooden stickes and clapping hands. Changes in speed and body movements occur in patterns of 2, 4, 6, and 8 according to the rhythm of the instruments. Malapulayattam is characterised by hand gestures and spinning movements.

Paliya Dance

The Paliya Dance is a traditional art form of the Paliya tribal community residing in the Idukki district. Usually, five men and five women participate in this dance, accompanied by musicians and singers. This dance is performed to please the Paliya's traditional deity (Mariamma) 'Ezhamath Palichi'. This dance is performed after the harvest season in the temple inside the forest and other places on special occasions of the community.

Costumes

Along with traditional attire, costumes made of Inja barks (Palinja), kallumala, anklets (thala), chilamb, feathered headdresses (Peeli) etc are included in the decorative costumes.

Music and Songs

Songs are sung in a mixture of Tamil and Malayalam languages. Prayers for healing and rain, the themes like job, wild animals, gods etc. are also mentioned in the songs.

Musical Instruments

Mulam chenda, Nagara, Udukku, Urumi, Jalara, Chilanka and Kurunkuzhal are used as accompanying instruments.

Presentation

Men and women start singing the vaytharis and dancing flexibly in two lines. Paliya dance is performed by clapping and waving hands and making steps in different ways in accordance with the rhythm of the song and music.

Irula Dance

The Irula Dance is performed by the Irula tribal community of the Attappady region in the Palakkad district. The Irulas are a community who preserves their own unique culture, language, beliefs, and way of life. Irular believe that the dead has become gods. Irulas dance as part of rituals to keep the spirits of the dead happy in their ooru (place of abode). In addition to that they perform the Irula dance during the festivals, the beginning of farming and to appease the spirit of their ancestors.

Costumes and Attire

Women tie their hair up (kondakettu) and wear silver ornaments, kasumala, kaluthand (anklets), traditional ornaments, kallumala and mookuthi (nose ring). Men also participate wearing mund, banyan (vest), shirt etc.

Music and Songs

In Irula dance the dancers do not sing themselves but dance to the rhythm of songs sung in the Irula language, accompanied by musicals instruments like kuzhal and kottu vadyam. Irula language is a hybrid form of Tamil, Kannada and Malayalam.

Musical Instruments

Pere, Davil, Kogalu, Jalre

Performance

Irula dance is performed by the singers singing and the dancers repeating the same according to the occasion. The dancers form a circle and move in rhythm, waving their hands and stepping in sync with the beats of the music and songs.

Mangalam Kali

Mangalam Kali is a traditional dance form of the Mavilar and Malavettuva communities in the Kannur and Kasaragod districts.

This dance is performed in connection with ceremonies like Kathukuthu (ear-piercing), Thirandu Kalyanam (puberty ceremnony), weddings, and other celebrations. Both men and women, or women alone, perform this dance. It is also known as Kalyana Kali (Wedding Dance).

Costumes

Men wear thorth and a hat made from arecanut sheath. Women wear mundu and blouse. They also tie a cross cloth made of thorthu mundu (thundathil kettu) to perform mangalam kali.

Music and Songs

A variety of Mangalam Kali songs exist. Various songs are composed in a mixed language of Tulu and Malayalam. Different types of songs include Pandhal Paattu, Vandana Paattu, Arana Paattu, and Pootha Paattu.

Musical Instruments

Thudi is the main musical instrument used in mangalam kali, Pani thudi and perum thudi are the important musical instruments.

Presentation

Starting with the Vandana song, the mangalamkali is played by waving the hands and stepping to the rhythm of the song in a row and circle. Dance and body movements are alternated according to the rhythm of the song. Dancers also clap their hands to the rhythm of the song and there are differences in the songs and the presentation depending on the regional levels.

Paniya Dance

Vattakkali (Krayavum kaliyum) kambalanatti etc are the traditional folk dance forms performed by the Paniya tribal community in Wayanad district. Paniya dance or Vattakkali is an indispensable part of Paniya's rituals from birth to death. Both men and women participate in these dances in their ceremonies. Kambalanatti is a sapling plantation dance performed during agricultural festivals.

Costumes

Women wear mundu, blouse and tie red and black silk cloth around the waist (arratti). Women wear ornaments like vallikkallumala, panathali, choothu (kathola) etc. Men wear thorthu and mund.

Music and Language

Paniya dance is in accordance with the beat of the kuzhal (cheenam) and thudi talam. In between they sing funny or other sayings, vaytharis and stories. The songs are in Paniya language.

Musical Instruments

Key instruments are the tudi and kuzhal. There are more than sixteen tudi talas.

Performance

Men and women play in two groups in circles. The emphasis is in arm and leg movements. The same step is played repeatedly without a fixed time. Men and women have different steps.

Aesthetic Vibe

Shall we read a poem?

Going for the final interview
Parting the sunlight with Certificates for weighing the merit
I saw a crowd

Children in uniforms
The peanut seller, the lottery women
The butcher, the butter milk seller
And some more
Rushing forward something curious

Children ran away afraid
When I reached,
Some middle-aged came against
Why muddling with this
While standing in street shades
Having concerned about the dusk.

The police man's son
Is adding his vlog likes
Parting the raised selfie sticks
The curious eyes focused
The final offering of helplessness
To the motionless old body

Which characters are mentioned in this poem? Identify them.

Let's Learn About Gazal...

- Gazal is a distinctive poetic form in Persian-Urdu literature.
- It is primarily composed in Hindustani music.
- Today, gazals are most popular in the Urdu language.
- All couplets in a gazal follow the same metre.
- The last words in each couplet will be the same.
- The style of singing Gazals is referred to as 'Gazal Gayaki'.
- The first couplet of a gazal is called 'Matla' and the last couplet is 'Maqta'.
- In an ideal gazal, the name or pen name of the poet will be marked in the last couplet, maqta. It is called 'Takhallus'

- Words that are repeated in the first two lines and subsequently in every second line of the couplets are called 'Radif'.
- The word preceding the Radif in each line will be of same kind. This is known as Quafiya.
- Ustad Bada Ghulam Alikhan, Begam Akthar, Gulam Ali and Roshinara Begam are the renowned gazal singers.

Find out and Sing

Listen to the lines of the Gazal given below with the help of the resource folder and find out the Radif and Quafiya in the couplets.

Let's sing in accordance with the gazal in the resource folder, concentrating the lines.

"Koi Ummeed Bar Nahin Aati

Koi Soorat Nazar Nahin Aati

Maut Ka Ek Din Muayyan Hai

Neend Kyun Raat Bhar Nahin Aati

Aage Aati Thi Haale Dil Pe Hansi

Ab Kisi Baat Par Nahin Aati

Hum Wahan Hain Jahan Se Humko Bhi

Kuchh Hamari Khabar Nahin Aati

Kaaba Kis Mooh Se Jaaoge Ghalib

Sharm Tumko Magar Nahin Aati"

- Ghalib

A connection between the couplets of a Gazal is not at all compulsory. The connection between them is established with the conditions of Radif and Quafiya.

Sufi Music

Sufi music is a devotional genre that originated from the thoughts and poetry of Sufi saints. Its central theme revolves around spirituality. The songs in Sufi music reflect peace, tolerance, and pluralism. Sufi music gained prominence in India through 'Amir Khusrau', a notable Sufi musician. The Qawwali style of singing, a blend of Persian and Indian music, was introduced by him. Other musical forms like Gazal and Kafi are also seen in Sufi music. Initially, Sufi music spread through Arabic and later through Persian, Turkish, and various other languages. Instruments like the Daf, Kanun, Oud, and Ney are mainly used in Sufi music. International Sufi festivals held in places like Delhi and Ajmer bring together prominent Sufi musicians. Nusrat Fateh Ali Khan is one of the world-renowned Sufi musicians.

Project

Listen to Gazals. Find out the poets and singers and collect details.

Phase 1

Enjoy listening to the following Gazals:

1. Niklo Na
2. Ye Dil
3. Sarakti Jaye
4. Ulti Ho Gayi
5. Jabse Tune
6. Kaun Aayega
7. Honton Pe Kabhi
8. Tumhare Saath
9. Ye Kaun Aa Gaya

Phase 2

Select your three favourite Gazals from the above list and find out the poets who wrote them and the singers who sang them.

Phase 3

Gather information about the poets and singers you identified. (Include pictures if possible).

Phase 4

Identify the Radif in the selected Gazals and write them down.

Phase 5

Present the project as a paper or digital presentation.

Mirza Ghalib (1797 - 1869)

Mirza Asadullah Khan, popularly known as Ghalib, was a renowned Urdu and Persian poet and Gazal writer who lived in 19th-century in Delhi. Born in 1797 in Agra, part of the Mughal Empire, he is considered as the father of Gazals. His collection of poems is titled Diwan-e-Ghalib. Another pen name he used was Asad.

Muhammad Iqbal (1877 - 1938)

A famous Urdu poet and philosopher, Muhammad Iqbal, was born in 1877 in Sialkot, Punjab, in British India. Known as Allama Iqbal, he penned the celebrated song 'Sare Jahan Se Achha'. His notable works include Bang-e-Dra and Shikwa Jawab-e-Shikwa. Iqbal also has written numerous Gazals.

Joseph Beuys (1921–1986)

Joseph Beuys was a German artist and art theorist. He created artworks addressing social, political, environmental, and cultural themes. His concept 'Social Sculpture' significantly redefines the meaning of art. Beuys created various artforms like painting, drawing, sculpture and installation. One of his most renowned works is 7000 Oaks (1982–1987).

Installation Art

Installation art is the three dimensional expression of art form which is originated in Western art as part of the Conceptual Art Movement in 1960, that contains the spatial features, presented through different media, gives multi sensory experience and it is based on concepts.

Let us familiar with some installation artworks

'Surrounded Islands, Biscayne Bay'Christo and Jeanne-Claude
An artwork designed in a location of historical, cultural, or physical significance.

'One and three Chairs' Joseph Kosuth
Artworks that emphasise ideas over the physical materials used.

'Incredible Serpentine Three Roots' Andy Goldsworthy
Temporary creations designed for specific exhibitions or contexts.

'Boundary Functions Scott Snibbe
Artworks requiring active participation from viewers rather than passive observation.

'Memorial' Vivan Sundaram
Artworks combining sculpture, photography, video, sound, light, and performance.

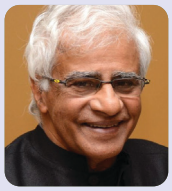
Project

Prepare a project proposal for the installation art that you intend to create.

This proposal should detail the concepts, ideas, materials, location, time, size, scale, and structure of the artwork, along with any other relevant information.

- Introduction: Introduction should provide a general description of the project, giving a rough idea intended.
- Include concept, hypothesis and objective. The concept often reflects the artist's thoughts or encourages viewers to interpret it in their way.
- Include influences like prior studies/knowledge/models/ activities.
- Include the experiences shared through works. Also include prior knowledge, thoughts learning and experience, which led to the creation of the artwork.
- Description of the form, location, structure, and construction methods of the art work.

Vivan Sundaram (1943 - 2023)



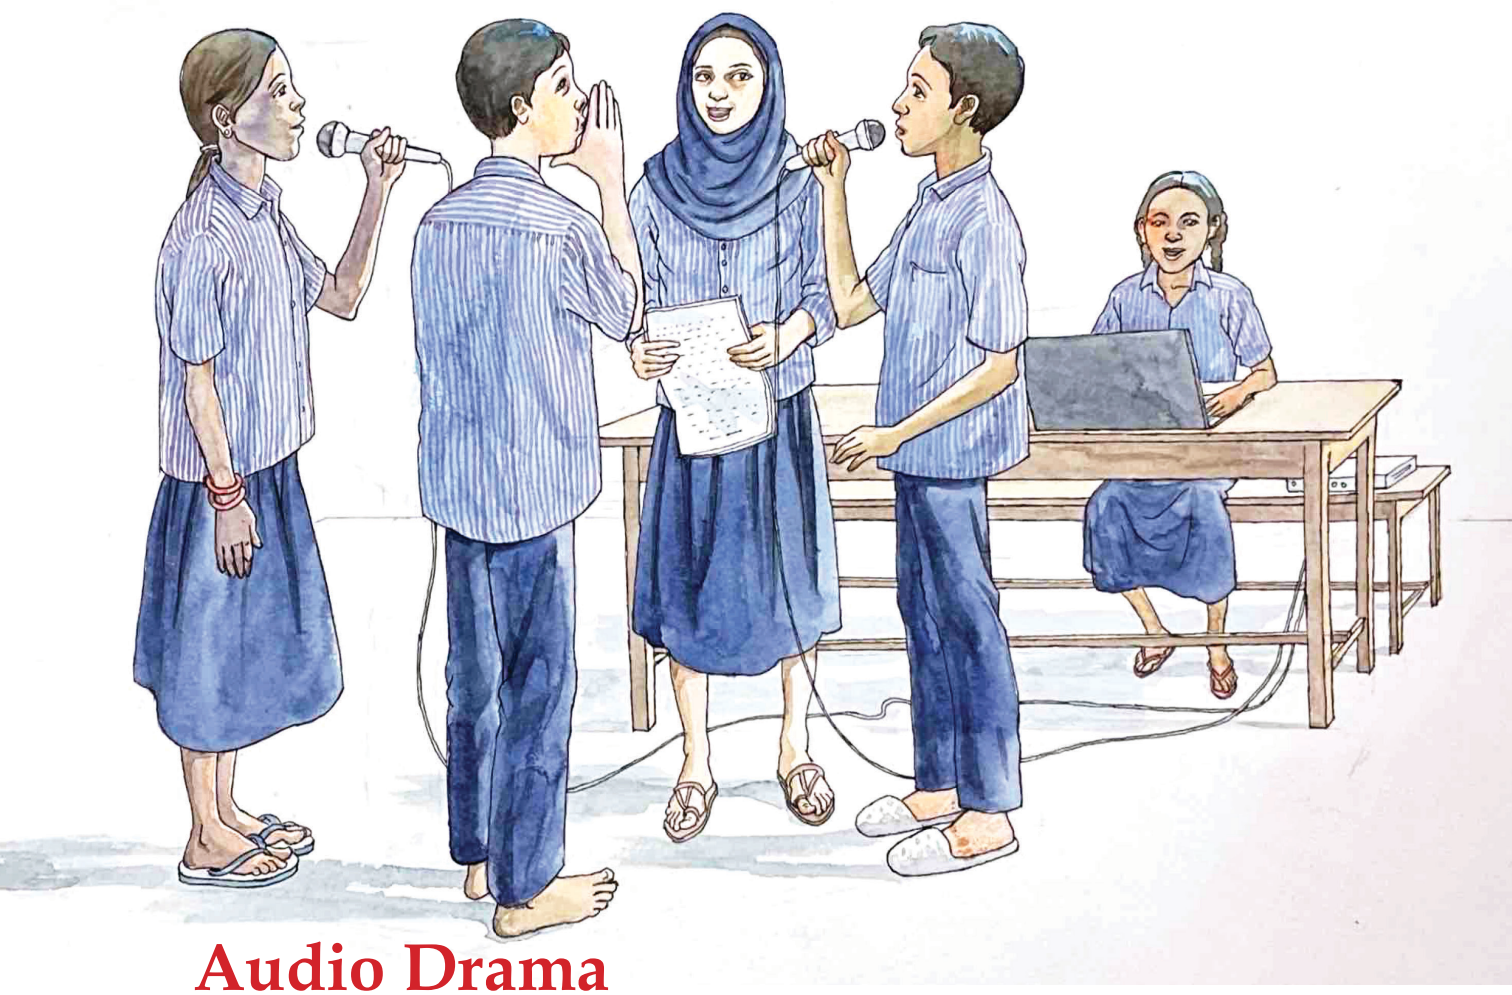
Vivan Sundaram was a prominent artist in the fields of painting, sculpture, printmaking, photography, installation, and video art. He studied art at M.S. University, Baroda, and the Slade School of Fine Art, University College of London (UCL Slade). Sundaram participated in international biennales such as the Kochi-Muziris Biennale (2012), Sharjah (2005, 2023), Sydney (2008), Taipei (2006), and Shanghai (2004). His notable works include Memorial (1993, 2001, 2014), History Project (1998), (Kolkata Victoria Memorial - site specific) The Sher-Gil Archive (1995), Retake of Amrita (2001-2002), and Black Gold (2012).

Include consolidated sketches using collected information and understanding. A detailed note can be written on the structure of the artwork or create installation according to the outlines.

Ensure to document the phases of the activities through videos or photographs. Otherwise, prepare a project about a renowned installation or installation artist.

Points to Consider When Creating an Installation

- Availability of medium, temporary construction.
- Nature of the art materials, way of construction and physical effort.
- Location, surroundings, and weather condition for installation.
- Viewer's interaction and participation.



Audio Drama

Let's see how the mini form of a drama is composed.

The queen of the country has lost her diamond necklace. The king issues a decree to find it. The soldiers search for the necklace throughout the kingdom and arrive at a pond. Exhausted, they decide to drink water from the pond. One of the soldiers notices the necklace in the pond. Hearing this, the king orders to drain the pond. After the pond is drained, the necklace is nowhere to be found. With wonder the king commands the pond to be refilled. Once the pond is full again, the necklace reappears. The king, his ministers, and the soldiers stand in astonishment, wondering how this is possible.

Nearby, under a tree next to the pond, rests a sage. The king approaches the sage and seeks a solution to the mystery. The sage scoops water from the pond with both hands and shows it to the king. In the water, he sees the reflection of the necklace. The sage then points to a branch of the tree above the pond, where the real necklace is hanging.

The sage remarks, "We all wander through life chasing shadows." With this profound statement, the play concludes.

This is a summary of "Nizhal," a play by Prof. G. Shankara Pillai. Inspired by this, shall we create our own script by weaving words and ideas to make a script for drama?

Write the answers to the following questions on different places of a paper.

Example:

- A favourite name
- A favourite place
- An activity you enjoy during leisure time
- A trait you dislike in others
- A place you do not wish to visit
- A sound/song/music you like to listen
- A person you trust to be by your side during difficult times

Use these answers to craft a story, following the example given in Image 1. Develop a script based on this model and present it as an audio play.

Khan Kavil

Khan Kavil is an artist who lives in the minds of the audience even today through the immortal characters of radio dramas. He became famous as a playwright, actor, director, broadcaster, orator and lyricist and he passed away on June 5 1997.

Headphone theatre

Head phone theatre provides an audio based performance experience using binaural sound technology to create a 3 D listening. The audience wear headphones and through soundscapes, dialogues and music, they travel with the story. It is used for experimental story telling , audio drama and live performances.

Children's Theatre Festival

Celebrate January 1 to 7 as Children's Theatre Week!

Project

Although drama is fundamentally a visual art form, it also holds immense potential for auditory appreciation. Through voice modulation, it can make the audience experience diverse characters, emotional states, and narrative backgrounds. Audio drama, once a highly popular art form, continues to offer vast possibilities even today.

The objective of this project is to select a theme from the learner's surroundings, craft a script, and present it as an audio drama.

Phase 1

- Prepare the script.
- Determine the characters.
- Create the necessary dialogues.
- Decide the location, period, and timeline for the story.

Phase 2 - Production

Find out actors with suitable sound of the characters.

Use voice modulation to convey emotions and conflicts effectively.

Ensure sound arrangements align with the story's setting, characters' emotions, and atmosphere.

Presentation-Perform the drama without showing the characters on stage, relying solely on sound for classroom presentation.

Otherwise, record the dialogues and background sounds in advance and present them in class with the help of digital technology.

Ratan Thiyam

Ratan Thiyam is a renowned Indian playwright and director whose contributions to modern Indian theatre are invaluable. Hailing from Manipur in northeast India, Thiyam creatively blends Manipuri traditions, music, martial arts, and rituals into his plays. His notable works include King of the Dark Chamber, Raja, Ashibagi Eshei, and Ritusamharam. Thiyam has received numerous awards, including the Sangeet Natak Akademi Award, Padma Shri, Kalidas Samman, John D. Rockefeller Award, Sangeet Natak Akademi Fellowship, and the Bhupen Hazarika Foundation Award.

When Pictures Tell Stories

''Photo Story' is a method of storytelling using a series of photographs. Adding captions, voiceover, or background music the impact of it can be enhanced.

Required Components

1. Idea/Story: A composition that conveys the intended message. This can be a story, poem, or dialogue. Photographs that depict the message and emotions of the story.
2. Photo Collection: Photographs that maintain the continuity of the story. These can also be self-captured.
3. Storyline: A clear beginning, middle, and end designed to captivate the audience.
4. Sound Design: Use appropriate voiceover, background music, and ambient sounds effectively.

Types of Photo Stories

1.Documentation: Fact-based, informative, and authentic.

2.Narrative: Fictional, character-driven, and emotional.

3.Personal: Reflecting biographical or autobiographical events.

Project

Create a photo story about a historically significant, culturally renowned, or newsworthy location, person or organisms in your area.

Photo Story

Photo Story is a powerful way to tell a story through a series of images, conveying emotions, experiences, and messages. By combining photographs with captions or minimal text, it stimulates imagination and offers an aesthetic experience for viewers. In today's digital era, this visual storytelling format plays a vital role in sharing perspectives, documenting history, and inspiring change. Without language barriers, a photo story effectively conveys ideas or narratives that are easy for audiences to understand.

Preparations

- Identify names of historically significant, newsworthy places, individuals, or living beings.
- Gather detailed information about the identified place, individual, or living being.
- Organise the necessary equipments for photography, such as a camera or mobile phone camera, along with other tools.
- Prepare written descriptions.
- Select and set up software required for editing the photographs.

Stages of Photo Story Creation

Stage 1: Observe the characters and environment based on the selected theme and prepare a script.

Stage 2: Create a storyboard for capturing photos.

Example: Prepare shot divisions (wide shot, mid-shot, close-up, low angle, high angle, etc.).

Stage 3: Arrange the necessary props for the location and story.

Stage 4: If required, use makeup and costumes to prepare the actors.

Stage 5: Set up lighting, composition, and camera angles, then proceed with the photography.

Stage 7: Add music and sound effects as per the storyline and complete the photo story.

Dance Waves

In every period of human existence, dance forms have been created incorporating cultural and social elements. Different natya arts developed in connection with various cultural domains like rituals, agriculture and entertainment. In the dance forms of different regions, we can see different varieties of language, music, steps, costume, songs, music instruments, mukhathezhuthu and ornaments. It has folk and classical dance forms. Bharata natyam, Kuchipudi, Mohiniyattam etc are examples.

The dance form Kuchipudi was originated in a village called Kuchelapuram, located on the banks of the Krishna River in Andra Pradesh. Initialy, Kuchipudi was a dance form performed exclusively by men. It was primarily presented in a dance-drama format, featuring plays based on the Bhagavata Purana. In 1959, the Government of India honored this art form by giving the tittle 'classical'.

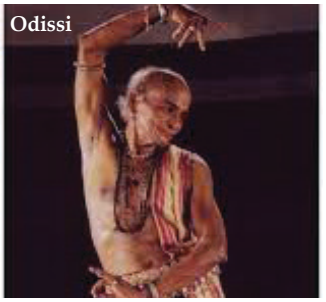
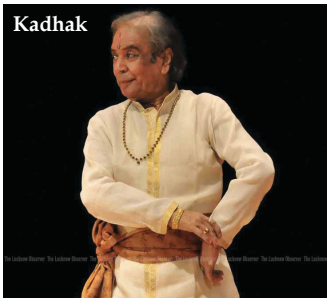
'Tharanga ' was the first solo item experimented in Kuchipudi. It was Guru Vedantam Lekshmi Narayana Sasthri who composed tharanga as a dance from and brought women to kuchipudi stage for the first time. The dance performed on a plate with water-filled pots balanced on the head adds a spectacular element to Tarangam.

Method of Practice

Kuchipudi includes numerous distinctive movements/adavus. Swift and graceful lasya movements in sync with rhythmic patterns are the highlights of this dance form. Several movements related to the local people's lives and styles are evident in Kuchipudi's adavus. Adavus like Chowkam, Katternat, Kuppi, Ontadav, Jaradav, and Pakkanat exemplify regional heritage.





The given images portray some of the classical dance forms that are recognised by the Sangeet Natak Akademi. Which states do the dance forms shown in the image represent? Which of these classical dance forms have you seen?

During the village festivals associated with Onam celebrations in your locality, have you watched such classical dance forms? What unique features can you identify in these dance forms?

Project

Study the cultural festivals and village fairs in your area, focusing on the classical dance performances. Analyse the presentation styles, and compare their similarities and differences with Kerala's classical dance forms. Use the given indicators to prepare the project.

Indicators

- Type of Dance
- Performers
- Choreography – Concept
- Aharyam – Makeup and costume
- Music and Instruments Used
- Venue – Stage
- Stage Setup – Props, Sound, and Lighting

Phase 1

Data collection based on Choreography (Concept, movement), Aharyam (Costume, make-up), styles of steps, mudras and Rasabhinaya. Let's focus on the indicators.

Phase 2

List the various dance forms of Kerala and their characteristics based on the given indicators.

Indicators

- Images
- Names of dancers
- Type of Dance
- Choreography
- Costume Design
- Makeup
- Music used for the Dance
- Instruments
- Stage properties

Phase 3

Understand the similarities and differences between local dance forms and various dance performances in Kerala. Prepare a report including pictures and videos. Include a comparative study in the report.

Phase 4

Present the project in class based on the gathered information. Slide presentation, paper presentation, lecture etc. can be used.

Performance Structure of Kuchipudi

In today's Kuchipudi performances, elements of Natya Mela and Nattuvamela traditions are intertwined. Kuchipudi was originated from the Natya Mela traditions that followed the dance-drama style. However in later times, when this art evolved into a solo form, a few items of the Nattuvamela system became part of the performance. Pure dance and nrithyas mixed with dance and bhava are thus incorporated in to the presentation of Kuchipudi. The traditional dance dramas of Kuchipudi are marga plays which are the visual form of Yakshagana branch of litrature. By 1930's solo varieties began to be organised in Kuchipudi. Today solo performances mainly include puja, jathiswaram, sound, javali, keerthanam, ashtapathi and thillana.

Art Exhibition

An art exhibition is the display of artworks such as paintings, sculptures, installations, digital art and new media in art galleries, public spaces, and museums. Art exhibitions are characterised by their creative and critical engagements facilitated through the works of artists. The interaction between the artworks and viewers at the exhibition creates a visual dialogue. Art exhibitions can be held individually or collectively. They may be centred around specific themes, collectives, media variations, cultural-social exchanges, space-time relations contexts, and open discussions. In modern times, virtual art exhibitions have also become prevalent. Art exhibitions play a significant role in cultural exchange within a society. Some exhibitions include concept notes, brochures, or booklets detailing the exhibition's theme, related information, purpose, philosophy, details about the artists and their works, the year in which the work was created, the media used, dimensions of the artwork, and the exhibition's title.

project in either digital or manual format. The completed project should be submitted as a comprehensive document for presentation.

Biennale

The Italian word "Biennale" means "every two years." Large-scale contemporary art exhibitions have been held in London since 1851, but the term "Biennale" became widely known with the introduction of the Venice Biennale in 1895. Although the term is generally used to describe art festivals or exhibitions held every two years, since the 1990s, the words "Biennale" and "Biennial" have been used to refer to grand international contemporary art exhibitions. Apart from Venice Biennale, Biennales are held in many parts of the world. The notable ones are Beijing Biennale, Athens Biennale, Berlin Biennale, Kochi-Musiris Biennale, Mosco Biennale, Munich Biennale, Shanghai Biennale and Singapure Biennale.

Ratan Parimoo

Born in 1936 in Srinagar, Kashmir, Ratan Parimoo is a prominent art historian, distinguished painter, and teacher. He served as a professor and the dean of the Department of Art History & Aesthetics at M.S. University, Baroda, for 25 years. In 1956, along with artists like G.R. Santosh, K.G. Subramanyan, Shanti Dave, N.S. Bendre, and Jyoti Bhatt, he founded the Baroda Group. His notable publications include Art of Three Tagores: From Revival to Modernity, Historical Development of Contemporary Indian Art, Life of Buddha in Indian Sculptures, and A Guide to Elephanta. He has been honoured with prestigious awards such as the Gujarat Lalit Kala Akademi Gaurav Puraskar, Raja Ravi Varma Chitrakar Samman, and Rabindranath Tagore Birth Centenary Medal.

Geeta Kapur

Born in 1943, Geeta Kapur has distinguished herself as an art historian, art critic, and curator. A leading figure in critical art writing, Geeta Kapur has contributed extensively to the art and cultural domain through monographs, art exhibition catalogues, curatorial notes, essays, and books. Her notable works include Contemporary Indian Artists (1978), When Was Modernism: Essays on Contemporary Cultural Practice in India (2000), and Critic's Compass: Navigating Practice. In 2009, she was honoured with the Padma Shri award by the Government of India.

Project

Prepare a project proposal describing the preparation for the formation of a school music band.

Phase 1

Explain the preparations required to identify students who can sing and those who can play various musical instruments to form a school music band.

Phase 2

Plan the methods for selecting children for the school music band from the children who were identified through phase 1 using notes, video, audio file etc.

Phase 3

Prepare a detailed report on how to train the selected singers and instrumentalists for music performances in the school band, with the help of the indicators given below.

- Training Room
- Song Collection
- Availability of Musical Instruments
- Sound System
- Assistance from local artists and teachers

Phase 4

Consolidate the notes prepared in the first three phases to form a school music band and organise a music performance. Include detailed information and a blueprint in a project proposal to be presented in class as a paper presentation or a digital presentation or by the performance of music band.

Music band

Music band is a musical performance group consisting of singers instrumentalists, light and sound experts etc. In a music band, the song is sung individually or in groups and the band performs existing songs as well as its own compositions. Music band uses various instruments like guitar, drum, violin, Tabla, Rhythm pad, keyboard etc. The music band has genres like rock, pop, classic, jazz, rap and some of the band's songs are also released as music albums.

School Music Band

A school music band is a music band formed in a school for children. All the activities of the music band like singing, writing songs, composing songs, playing different musical instruments and sound management will be done by the children themselves. School music band helps to nurture the musical creativity of the children and it also helps them to shine a lot through presentations in the common programmes in the school. The music band should be given a suitable and catchy name.

Open file 6.2 of class 10

Phase 5

Under the leadership of the teachers and students the prepared project proposal should be handed over to the principal and strive to develop plans to implement the school music band project in the institution.

Drums

Drum is one of the most significant percussion instruments. A drum is made by stretching a membrane, also known as a drumhead or drum skin, over a shell and securing it with a ring.

The image shows a drum kit or drum set. A standard drum kit typically includes a set band drum, snare drum, hi-hat, rack toms, floor toms, one or more tom-toms, and cymbals such as ride cymbal and crash cymbal.

Ludwig van Beethoven (1770–1827)

Ludwig van Beethoven was a German composer and pianist who lived during the Classical period. He is one of the most revered figures in the history of Western music. His compositions are among the most performed in Western music and spanned the transition from the Classical period to the Romantic era in classical music. Until 1802, his music is considered to be in its early phase, and from 1802 to around 1812, it is referred to as the middle period of modern works.

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart (1756–1791)

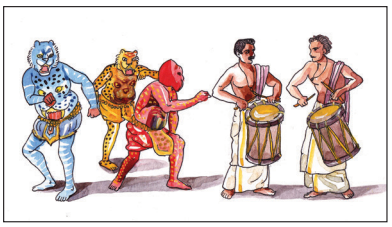
Mozart was one of the greatest composers of the Classical period. Displaying extraordinary skill on the keyboard and violin from a young age, he began composing and performing music at the age of five. Through his intense dedication and rapid compositional abilities, Mozart created over 800 works, encompassing all forms of Western classical music of his era. Many of these compositions are considered masterpieces of Western music.

When Pictures Dance

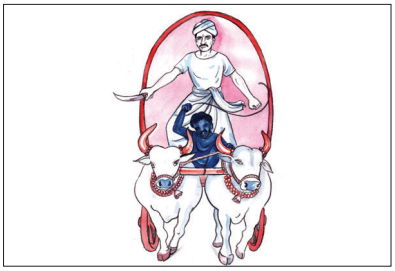
Human life goes through various situations. The moment depicted in the picture above is one such instance. Visuals can represent certain periods or preserve memories associated with personal life. There are life moments connected to both the time before and after the event depicted on the canvas.

Similarly, try to depict the moments before and after certain images through the possibilities of dance, based on your imagination.

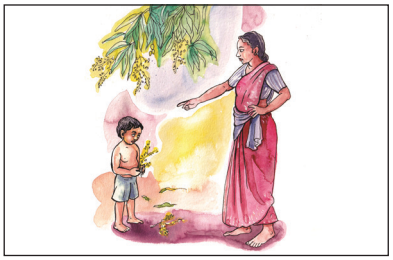
The beauty of dance is the blending of postures and movements. Observe the pictures provided below carefully. They can be interpreted and expressed through movement



Pulikali is an art form of Kerala, usually performed during the Onam festival. This art form has a history of approximately 200 years.



The Villuvandi Protest (Bullock Cart Protest) in 1893 was a revolutionary march led by the renaissance leader Ayyankali against caste discrimination. He brought a bullock cart from the neighbouring state and rode it on the public road from Venganoor to Kowadiyar.



In 1936, poet Sri Vailoppilli Sreedhara Menon wrote the poem "Maambazham" (The Mango), which is the inspiration for the image. It describes a mother remembering her deceased son.

The Death of Socrates, painted in 1787 by French artist Jacques-Louis David, is another significant visual. This painting is a part of the neoclassical style that was popular in the 1780s.

Project

Choose one of the four given images and creatively interpret the moment depicted through dance. Focus on imaginative representation of the scene using dance movements. Follow the steps outlined below to complete

Phase 1

Closely observe the characters, setting, background, costumes, colours, and expressions in the picture. Note the characters' actions, body postures, and structure and interpret their emotions and expressions.

Phase 2

Think about and discuss the possible interaction between the characters. One can think of the physical movement, expression, breath (rapid, soft, laboured, fatigued or vigorous breathing) that the characters may have after the moment in the picture.

Phase 3

After analysing the two phases, form groups and, visualise and depict the events before and after the moment in the picture.

Phase 4

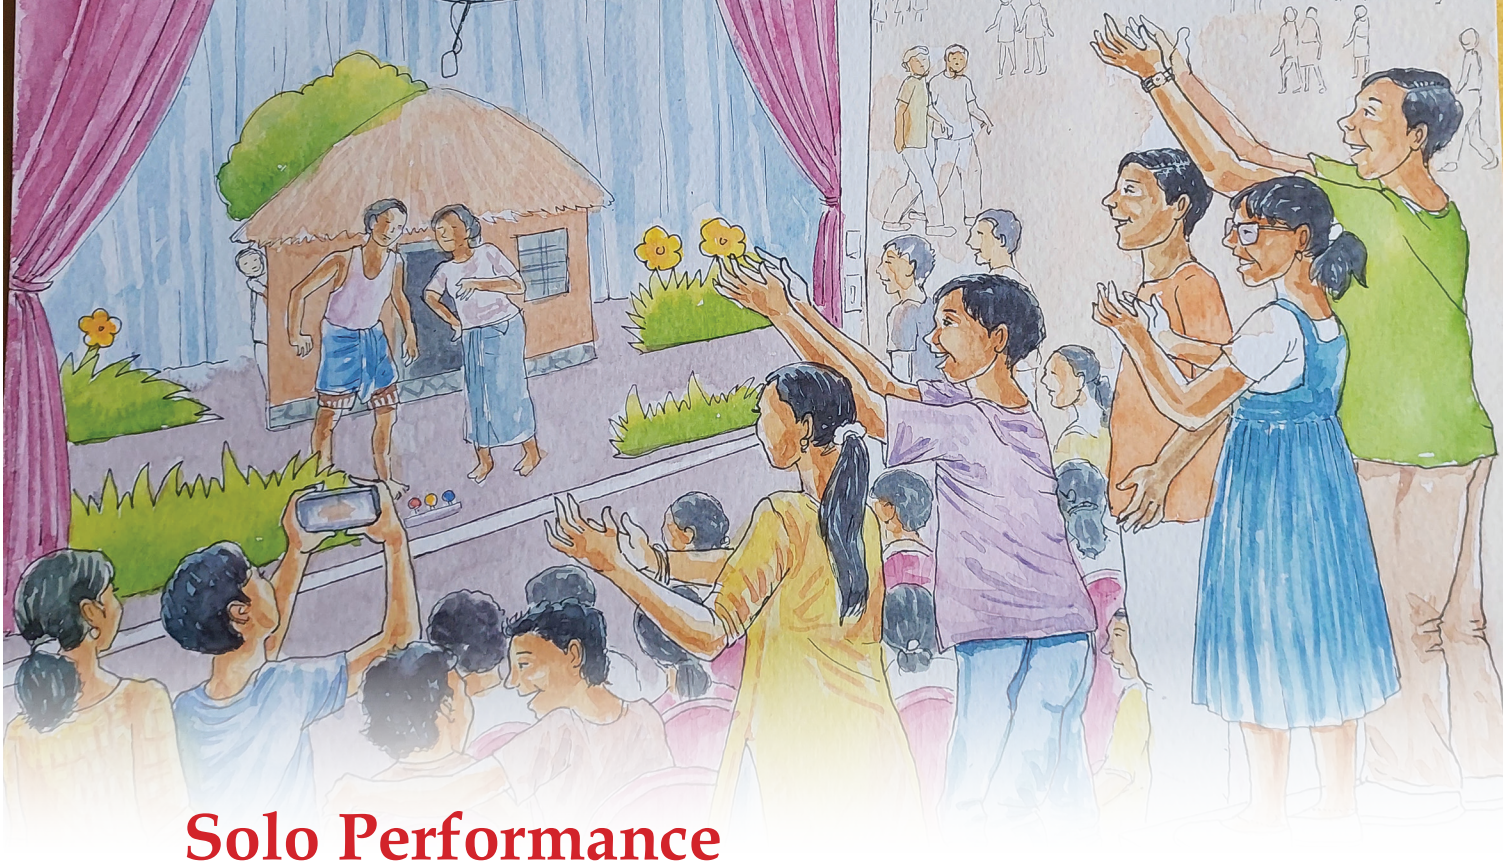
Visualisation can be presented as project either directly or by video records.

Kyle Abraham

Kyle Abraham is an American choreographer and dancer. His New York-based dance company, A.I.M, is recognised for its performances which blend contemporary dance with modern elements.

Akram Khan

One of the leading contemporary dancers and choreographers, Akram Khan is celebrated for his inventive choreography. Khan's performances integrate themes of nature, human relationships, and the environment. He merges contemporary modern dance with Indian dance traditions, creating unique and thought-provoking presentations.



Solo Performance

"When I first stepped onto the stage as a child, I didn't know where to look, how to stand, or what to do. But at the end of the programme, I received thunderous applause. That moment became the driving force behind my desire to stand on stage." These are the words from the autobiography 'My Life in Art' by the Russian theatre actor, director, and theorist Stanislavski.

Take a book and a pen, and everyone should prepare a short note about themselves. While preparing the note, consider the following pointers:

- Name, Age
- Approach towards friendships
- How do you behave in emotional situations?
- Attitude towards people of different genders
- Which trait is more dominant in you: fear, courage, despair, or love?
- What did you realise based on these questions?Prepare a note.

Now that everyone understands their personality, identify a character whose personality is the opposite of yours. You have to present this character.

Presentation Format

Let us divide into four groups, named A, B, C, and D. First, members of group A should make the presentation. Group B members will form a large circle. The performers from group A will move inside the circle as their character. One person from Group B will be the leader. When the leader says "Partner One", the moving members of Group A will choose someone sitting in Group B and demonstrate their character's state using gestures and facial expressions. When the leader says "Partner Two", all members of Group A will approach a different person in Group B and convey their character through dialogue. However, avoid directly stating the character's identity in the conversation. Each round lasts one minute. The leader can switch between "Partner One" and "Partner Two" in any order to make the game more interesting. After Group A finishes their performance, Group B will take their turn using the same method. The other groups can also play this game in the same manner.

Project

Choose an idea from the stories you've read or contemporary events. Create a 10-minute stage presentation with the required dialogues and present it as a solo drama.

Method Acting

Project

(Group project work)

Create a 30-second stop-motion film with the theme "Reconstruction."

Group Division

1. Conceptual formation/Scriptwriting
2. Storyboard
3. Art Direction, Makeup, Character Selection
4. Shooting
5. Editing

Phase 1: Scriptwriting - Group 1

Divide the class into five groups for the creation of a stop-motion film.

Conduct a discussion in the group for making a stop motion film based on the concept 'Reconstruction'. Find out the best and suitable idea of the discussion and prepare the script.

Phase 2: Storyboard

Group 2

Create a storyboard based on the script.

Phase 3: Art Direction

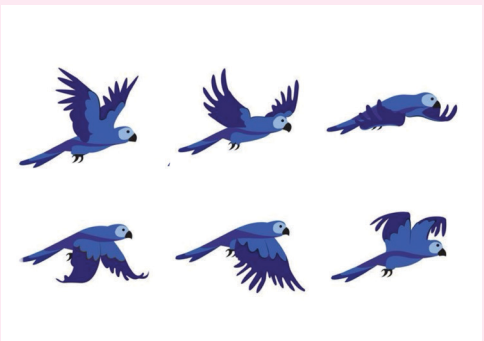
Group 3

Decide the character study, selection of objectives and properties.

Phase 4: Shooting

Group 4

Scenes are shot according to the storyboard. Still camera of the school or mobile phone camera can be used. (Pay attention to art direction, costumes, makeup, positioning of character/objects, movements in the frame.)



Stop Motion (Stop Frame Animation)

Stop motion is an animation technique where the positions of objects are slightly altered for each frame, and photographs are taken. When these frames are edited sequentially using video editing software and played, the illusion of movement is created. Combining numerous photos in this way, we can create films, which are known as stop motion films.

Phase 5: Editing

Group 5

Edit the photo as per the script using computer or mobile phone editing software.

- Arrangement of photos
- Sound Designing
- Background Music
- Title Design etc. should be taken care of while editing.

Phase 6

Stop-Motion Film Screening

Screen the stop-motion films created by different classes using a video projector.

Key Considerations for Creating Stop-Motion Films

Planning

A clear story, script, storyboard, and appropriate props are essential for creating a stop-motion film.

Consistency

Maintain consistent lighting, camera angles, and character positions throughout the shoot to create various shots..

Variation of movements

Create small, precise movements between frames to achieve smooth motion.

Observation of details

Character positioning, props, and set dressing must be handled with great care and precision to achieve realistic motion in stop motion cinema.

Pay attention to the example of a stop motion film
